All professors will give final exams. Exams must be taken at the scheduled time. If a professor desires permission to change an exam time, permission must be granted by their Dean by April 2, 2012. Students who have three exams scheduled the same day may have one exam rescheduled. Students are to ask permission of the professor in one of three classes to change one exam time. Students must take a signed permission form to the appropriate Dean for final approval no later than April 2, 2012. Students needing to change exam times for unavoidable conflicts (such as work), must have signed permission from the professor and approval by the appropriate Dean by April 2, 2012. Professors may allow students in duplicate sections to take exams with another section. This action is solely at the professor's discretion.
