XXI. Sexual Harassment

Introduction

North Greenville University is committed to providing an environment free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment by any member of the university community is a violation of both the law and university policy and will not be tolerated. Both males and females can be victims of sexual harassment, and both males and females can be perpetrators of sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is an issue that may affect any member of the university community and will be dealt with promptly by the administration.

Definitions of Sexual Harassment

For Students, harassment on the basis of sex is a violation of Title IX of the Education

Amendments of 1972, which prohibits sex discrimination in educational programs and activities. Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's status in a course, program, or activity;
2. Submission to such conduct is used as the basis for academic decisions affecting the individual, including, but not limited to, grade or academic progress; or
3. When the conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with the individual's academic performance, or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive educational environment.

The basic point to remember is that sexual harassment is unwanted, unsolicited, or undesired attention of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment is a breach of the trusting relationship that normally exists between the employer-employee and/or the professor-student. Boundaries between the professional role and the personal relationship blur because the harasser introduces the personal element into what should be a sex-neutral situation. Sexual harassment can be exhibited verbally or physically. Examples of sexual harassment include: unwelcome sexual innuendoes, suggestive or insulting sounds, whistling in a suggestive manner, or humor and jokes about sex or (wo)men in general, implied or overt threats, and unwelcome patting, pinching, or touching.

Who Can be Sexually Harassed?

Both males and females can be victims of sexual harassment, and both males and females can be perpetrators of sexual harassment. Sexual harassment can occur between supervisor and employee; coworker and coworker; campus visitor and university employee; professor and student, and student and student.

What You Can Do If You Are Sexually Harassed

* Know your rights: Sexual harassment is illegal and university policy prohibits any university employee (faculty, staff, and student employees) or student from engaging in sexual harassment.

* Speak up at the time: Say "NO!" clearly, firmly, and without smiling. This is not the time to be polite or vague. By being quiet, you enable the harassment to continue. Speaking up can protect others from being victimized and may decrease your feelings of helplessness.

* Don't Blame Yourself: Sexual harassment is unwanted action that the harasser decides to take. It is not your fault.

* Don't Delay: If you delay action, the harassment is likely to continue. An employee or student may first pursue informal channels for resolving the situation. For instance, employees may initially want to discuss the situation with a Department Head or Personnel Officer. Students may first want to contact the appropriate Department Head or the Director of Student Services. Both employees and students have the option of contacting the appropriate Vice-President or the President. In all situations, the employee and student should be prepared to report the exact behavior and, if possible, the date(s) on which it occurred. If you are an observer of what you perceive to be sexual harassment, you can also take steps to stop this form of discrimination. You can:

* Report the Incident: Talk to appropriate persons within the department or administration.

It is important for persons (victims and observers) to seek advice in determining if what they are experiencing is sexual harassment. Seeking advice can also provide information on how to keep what are initial overtures from developing into harassment. Oftentimes, persons may feel that they can handle the situation when in fact they cannot. It is helpful to the university to know if such activities are occurring. Reporting the incident whether one decides to file an official complaint or not, benefits the victim, the university, and future students or employees.

Safeguards For Parties Involved

Sexual harassment is a particularly sensitive issue that can affect any member of the university community. Prompt action will be taken on every complaint. Each reported incident will be handled on a case by case basis to determine whether the alleged violation occurred and if appropriate disciplinary action is warranted. Disciplinary actions for violations may include the following: oral and/or written reprimand, reassignment, suspension, counseling, termination, or any combination thereof. Student offenders may be disciplined under the Standards of Conduct listed in The Enlightener. Confidentiality of all parties involved will be respected to the extent allowed by law. Complaint procedures are designed to ensure protection of the civil rights of all parties.

Students who intentionally avoid gate checks, requests to stop their vehicles or participate in other actions that lead to avoiding University officials is prohibited and may result in a students loss of privilege to attend the University. All of the above rules and regulations are in force from the beginning to the end of any and all school-related trips.

Students, whether on campus or off campus, must abide by all university policies and regulations at all times. The reputation of the university, as well as the individual student's ability to succeed, is at stake. Each student is to be aware, at all times, that attendance at North Greenville University is a privilege and not a right. Regulations are designed to protect the interests and well being of the student, his or her family, the university, and society. Disciplinary measures are designed to be corrective and beneficial to the educational development of the student. Students who withdraw must follow established procedure including clearances from Counseling and Placement, Academic Affairs, Registrar, Business Office, Financial Aid, Public Safety, and Housing. Any student who refuses to cooperate with university officials forfeits all rights as outlined in the Enlightener and may be removed from university property.

CAMPUS MINISTRIES

Campus ministries play an important role in the university's strategy to fulfill its stated purpose. It functions as a key component of the collegiate experience at North Greenville University. As an institution of the South Carolina Baptist Convention, the university is committed to quality education in a biblically sound, Christ-centered environment. Ministering to the spiritual needs of students is as important as meeting their academic needs. Students need opportunities to be exposed to the gospel of Christ, to grow in a relationship with Christ, and to share in ministry and service for Christ. Through campus ministries students are encouraged to realize their full potential as complete persons, developing intellectually, physically, socially, culturally, morally, and spiritually. By integrating all these principles under the Lordship of Jesus Christ, students are challenged to achieve this goal. Students have the opportunity to experience a special sense of community through the development of close, personal relationships with other students through campus ministries. By building relationships with caring, Christian faculty, staff, and administrators, students also receive nurturing in their faith pilgrimages. Through campus ministries, the university strives to meet these students needs. The spectrum of campus ministries includes worship, evangelism, discipleship, fellowship, and ministry.

Worship

Chapel services are designed to minister to the spiritual needs of the entire university family. Students share leadership roles in these times of worship. Many students have received Jesus Christ as their personal Lord and Savior during chapel. Many others have been challenged and encouraged in their faith pilgrimages, through music, drama, testimonies, and preaching, students are encouraged to commit their lives to Christ and to live for Him daily.

Evangelism

Evangelism is one of the primary task of ministry. Every Christian shares in the responsibility to communicate the good news of Christ to those who do not know Him. Evangelism is more than a responsibility; it is a great privilege. Through chapel services, student Christian organizations, personal encounters, and small groups, students are exposed to the truth of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Discipleship

Making disciples is another primary task of ministry. Evangelism and discipleship are two sides of the same coin. One is incomplete without the other. The Lord commanded his followers to go and make disciples in Matthew 28:18-20. Non-Christians must be exposed to the gospel and challenged to receive Christ if this command is to be obeyed. But even then, obedience is only partial if new Christians are not faithfully and lovingly nurtured to learn and obey all the teachings of Christ. Through small group Bible studies, one-on-one relationships, prayer groups, worship, fellowship, ministry opportunities, and accountability groups, students are nurtured toward spiritual maturity. Bible study groups meet regularly on campus each semester. Many of these groups are student-led under the direction of the campus ministries staff. Interested students can apply to be study leaders through the campus ministries office. Training and accountability meetings are required for group leaders. The groups generally meet in six-week cycles. Various topics of study related to student needs are available each semester.

Fellowship

Fellowship is accessible in many forms at North Greenville University. Campus Christian organizations are a major source of fellowship. A description of the various Christian organizations is included in this handbook.

Ministry

Every follower of the Lord Jesus Christ is called to minister. Ministry involves showing God's love to others by meeting their needs in the name of Jesus by the power of the Holy Spirit. These needs may be spiritual, emotional, physical, or relational. The following are ministry opportunities available through campus ministries at North Greenville University:

Our Mission is to help student athletes build godly moral character. To accomplish this we have three goals 1) That every athlete would come to know Christ as their Lord and Savior, 2) That every athlete would graduate, 3) That every athlete be a winner both on and off the field.

We will provide the following to help athletes reach these goals: opportunities to be exposed to the gospel both individually and in large group settings; chaplains for each team, preferably a teammate; resources to help them engage in team and individual Bible studies; opportunities on or off campus for athletes to engage in community and

Intellectual Properties policy

I. Purpose

North Greenville University is committed to fostering an environment that supports the teaching, learning, scholarship and other creativity of its faculty, staff, and students. Thus, the intellectual Property Policy covers all types of intellectual property, including works protected by copyright and patent and trade secrets.

II. Definitions

A. Intellectual Property. Intellectual Property includes creative ideas and other expressions of human ingenuity that receive the legal protection of a property right. Expressions of Intellectual Property include any copyrightable material, trade secret, or patentable invention. It also includes creations, works of art, or inventions that might be normally developed on a proprietary basis.

B. Creator. Creator signifies any person (s) who create an item of intellectual property.

C. Substantial use. Substantial use of University facilities means the use of University facilities, personnel, equipment and other resources, to an extent greater than that which occurs in the normal and regular course of one's undertaking to perform and carry out the task for which one has been employed, or which is greater than the use afforded to students in the regular course of their studies. The use of University equipment or other resources is deemed "substantial" when it entails a level or kind of use not normally available to virtually all of the faculty, staff, and students. Incidental use of a University facility does not constitute substantial use—the facility must be important to the creation of an intellectual property.

III. Policy Provisions

Types of intellectual property also include (1) internally sponsored works; (2) externally sponsored works; and (3) substantial use of University facilities.

- A. Internally Sponsored Work. Internally sponsored work refers to work for which the University provides funds or other facilities that rise to the level of substantial use. When the university provides funds or other facilities in the generation of a particular project to the extent of substantial use, it may also choose to declare itself the owner of the intellectual property resulting from the project. The University by way of the Executive Council will provide in writing in advance the disposition of any intellectual property rights arising from a proposed project. Any proposed project must be approved in advance through normal University channels with final approval to be given by the Executive Council.
- B. Externally Sponsored Work. Externally sponsored work refers to work conducted under an agreement between an external sponsor and the University that also specifies the ownership of such intellectual property in the agreement.
- C. Intellectual Property Created within the Scope of Employment. In cases where University employees are specifically asked to create a particular intellectual property, such property shall be owned by the University if said intellectual property was not produced within the normal scope of their employment. Faculty are presumed not to be hired to produce a particular intellectual property. Computer programs generated on the job by faculty and staff computer programmers fall under this provision. Material created for ordinary teaching use in the classroom and in departmental programs, such as presentations, syllabi, assignments, class notes, and tests shall remain the property of the faculty author, but institutions shall be permitted to use such material for internal instructional, educational, and administrative purposes, including satisfying requests of accreditation agencies for faculty authored syllabi and course descriptions.
- D. Individual Agreements. Intellectual property that is the subject of a specific agreement between creator (s) and the University shall be owned as provided in the said agreement.
- E. Other intellectual Property. Intellectual property created by University staff employees and students not within the scope of employment, not by agreement, and not internally or externally sponsored, shall be owned by the University if the creation involved substantial use of University facilities: if there was no substantial usage, then the creation will be owned by the creator. Prevention of unauthorized use of University facilities is the rationale for this provision.
- F. Consulting Agreements. Work performed by individuals who serve as consultants to outside entities is not to involve substantial use of University facilities, and the rights to any intellectual property created under consulting agreements are retained by the outside entities or the individual as specified by the terms of the agreement. A member of the University community engaged in business or consulting work is responsible for ensuring that the provisions and work in the agreement do not conflict with the University's mission and values, are not in conflict with the University's policies concerning other employment, and do not prevent the University employee from fulfilling his or her responsibilities to the University. A creator of intellectual property should make his obligation to the University clear with those whom he or she makes such agreements and should also ensure that outside entities are provided with a current copy of the University's intellectual property policy. No member of the University will represent themselves to be, nor will they act in a manner which would reasonably cause another to conclude that they are agents of the University and thereby authorized to act on behalf of the University in dealings with outside entities in regard to dealings regarding contracts, grants, sponsored research, or other undertakings.

IV. Policy Provisions

The creator (s) of any intellectual property that might be owned or is owned by the University under this policy is required to make a written disclosure of the work to the University's President in a reasonably prompt time. Furthermore, said creator (s) are to execute any document deemed necessary to perfect legal rights in the University and enable the University to file copyright applications and patent applications when appropriate. The above-mentioned disclosure to the President should be made at the time when legal protection for the creation is contemplated, and it must be made before the intellectual property is used for profit, sold, or disclosed to the public. Regular records should be kept by all persons engaged in such creative activity whenever legal protection for the creation is contemplated.

V. Distribution of Funds

In cases where the University exerts ownership, the distribution of monetary proceeds from applicable intellectual property shall be distributed as follows:

- Creator—25%
- University—75%

The University's share of proceeds under this policy will be used to reimburse the University for its expenses for commercial development of intellectual policy. Any additional returns will be used to further the purposes of the disciplines of the entire University. Faculty, Staff, and students retain the right to all royalties resulting from the publication of their scholarly works.

VI. Dispute and Emerging Issues Resolution

This policy constitutes an understanding which is binding on the University and on the faculty, staff, and students upon whom it is effective. Questions regarding emerging issues and disputes will be addressed by the Intellectual Property Adjudication Committee, the members of which are appointed by the President. The Intellectual Property Adjudication Committee will consist of a chair who is a staff member at the Vice Presidential level, two members of the University faculty, and two other members representing respectively the University administration. The committee will use the guidelines set forth in this policy to decide upon a fair resolution of any dispute. Disputes are resolved by submitting a grievance letter to the Intellectual Property Adjudication Committee, which shall issue a decision within 60 days.

NORTH GREENVILLE UNIVERSITY STORE

Policies and Services

The university store is owned and operated by North Greenville University. It is provided to serve students, faculty, and staff. Bookstore hours are listed in the “Times To Remember” section.

Services

The university store is a self-service operation. Students are asked to leave notebooks, books, and supplies in the places provided at the entrance of the store. This habit will eliminate any embarrassing situations for students and staff.

Other Merchandise

Students will find a great many other items in addition to books at the university store. Art supplies, school supplies, clothing, toiletries, cosmetics, imprinted soft goods, glassware, and many more items are available. Computer programs may also be ordered through the university store. For student convenience, the university store also carries pre-paid long-distance calling cards. For refunds or exchanges on general merchandise, a cash register receipt must be presented which includes the item(s) to be returned or exchanged.

Check Acceptance

The university bookstore will accept personal checks in payment for merchandise under the following conditions:

1. It is the student's own personal check or that of the parents.
2. The check may be made out for the exact amount of purchases.
3. Presentation of a valid student identification card.
4. There will be a $10.00 service charge for each returned check.

Book Return Policy

If students drop or change a course, the texts may be returned within the two-week drop-add period at the beginning of each semester under the conditions stated below:

1. Returns must be accompanied by the REGISTER RECEIPT.
2. Books must be in absolutely new condition free of all markings with pencil, or ink, other than the price label. Books that were originally "shrink wrapped" must be returned in the same condition as they were bought.
3. The store staff is the sole judge in determining whether books returned are in new or used condition.

How Textbooks are selected

The faculty submits book requisitions to the bookstore, indicating author, title, and edition. The bookstore then proceeds to order the books, after taking into account current inventory. Prices are set by the publisher. If a new edition is published, the old edition has no cash value.

Textbook sales

In order to avoid lines, textbooks may be ordered in advance through efollett.com. These orders may be picked up at the University Store. Regular textbook sales begin the first day of registration for each semester. The University Store will be open for evening classes the first night each class meets for each semester.

Out of Stock Textbooks Reorder Policy

There are many reasons why a store may run out of stock. Some of these are:

1. An unusually larger enrollment than estimated.
2. The title is temporarily out-of-stock at the publisher's warehouse.

An out-of-stock book can take as long as four weeks to arrive from the publisher after the order is placed. Teachers will be notified when the book arrives at the bookstore.

Cash for your USED TEXTBOOKS

1. The bookstore will buy back used books provided they are your own books, they will be used again, and they are in good condition.
2. The bookstore will buy back used books at the end of each semester, usually during the week of exams. Lab manuals, workbooks, study guides, and other paperbacks will not be bought back.
3. The bookstore will buy back textbooks at one-half of the price paid for the book—used or new—if we are using it the next semester. If we are not using it, we will buy it back at the rate in our textbook-buying guide. Old editions have no value.
4. The books MUST HAVE OUR LABEL AND DATE IN THEM. Your student ID card may be used for identification purposes.
5. To sell your books, you do not need your sales receipt.

SCHEDULING OF CAMPUS EVENTS AND FACILITIES

It is necessary for anyone scheduling any events on the North Greenville University campus to register the event with the Office of Student Services and with the Campus Minister's office, which maintains the university master calendar of events. Coordination should occur with the Director for the Turner Auditorium, with the Vice-President for Admissions and Financial office for the Hayes Ministry Center, or with the Exhibits Director or Librarian for the Averyt Learning Center, when use of these facilities is requested. Appropriate forms are provided for reserving dates, spaces, and times for events. A master calendar will be maintained in the Campus Minister's office. Everyone must have approval for using campus facilities and register their request with the Director of Student Services. The only exception for this policy is the guesthouse and the boardroom in the Donnan Building. These two places must be reserved through the President's office. Before any plans or arrangements are made, approval must be obtained for the event. Campus Security should be notified if any buildings are used outside of normal operating hours.

BULLETIN BOARDS

All notices displayed on bulletin boards and other campus areas must be pre-approved by the Coordinator of Student Activities.—Announcements should be placed only on bulletin boards. Announcements may not be placed on windows or doors of campus building except in the residence halls.

LOST AND FOUND

The University assumes no responsibility for lost, stolen, or damaged articles. Articles lost, found, or stolen should be reported to the Office of Campus Security. A police report should be filed. Insurance claims for such items should be filed on the student or parent's homeowner's policy. University insurance provides no coverage. The University strongly recommends the student buy personal insurance for their belonging

Publications Policy

Student Publications and Staff Membership Requirements

The Skyliner is the newspaper written and edited by a staff of students and published by the university. Matters of campus-wide interest are reported. The majority of the staff is composed of students who have been or are presently enrolled in Journalism 3250—Newspaper Practicum, a course in the basics of writing for a newspaper with emphasis on news and feature articles, proofreading, and newspaper layout. The prerequisite for this course is Journalism 2320—News Writing, which is a study of the theory and practice of writing basic news stories for the print media, including practical work in covering a variety of news events and preparing copy for publication. Mass Communication majors are required to enroll in this practicum. However, by also enrolling in these two courses, any other interested students may then apply to become staff members. Exceptions in these requirements for staff membership can be granted by the faculty adviser. For example, interested students who have not enrolled in these courses but can demonstrate that they have substantial knowledge and prior experience in print journalism may apply in writing to become members of The Skyliner staff.

Special permission to join the staff can only be granted by the faculty adviser.

The Aurora is the university yearbook edited by the students and published annually by the university. The majority of the staff is composed of students who have been or are presently enrolled in Journalism 3260—Yearbook Practicum. This course provides students with practical experience working on the staff of the university yearbook and involves assignments in story writing, page layout, graphics design, photography, editing, and publishing. The prerequisite for this course is Journalism 2320. Mass Communication majors are required to enroll in these courses; however, any other student interested in becoming a member of the yearbook staff may also enroll in these courses. As is the case of the newspaper staff, other interested students who have not enrolled in these courses but can demonstrate they have substantial knowledge and prior experience in print journalism and/or graphics design may apply for staff membership. Special permission to join the yearbook staff can only be granted by the faculty adviser.

The Mountain Laurel is the literary magazine published by the university. It contains the written, artistic, and photographic work submitted by any interested students, faculty, staff, or other invited contributors. From each year's submissions, the staff members, working with the faculty adviser, evaluate and select the pieces to be published from among all the works submitted. The staff then edits and arranges these works for the annual edition of the literary magazine. Works not selected for one year's edition may be resubmitted. Any students interested in serving as staff members for this publication must apply in writing to the faculty adviser who will then select the staff. Students are not required to enroll in a practicum to work on this publication; however, preference will be given to those students who are or have been enrolled in English 3310–Creative Writing and/or Journalism 3310–Graphics Design or who can produce evidence of prior experience working on literary magazines.

The Publication Policy of North Greenville University

Acting under the guidelines governing student publications at independent universities, the university has determined that the student press will serve primarily an academic function as part of the Humanities Division and the Mass Communication department. Providing an outlet for student expression, the university has chosen to retain the student press within this structure of the institution and has determined the extent to which it can balance the mission of the university with student demands for freedom of expression.

Committed to the concept of a student press, the university has accepted the responsibility for providing organizational assistance and financial funding for the three student publications within the Humanities Division and the Mass Communication department. Any additional funding needed may be gathered by the staffs through donations of sponsors. Any fund raising events (on or off campus) must be approved in advance by the Office of Student Services. In addition, the university will offer scholarships for the editors of The Skyliner, The Aurora, and The Mountain Laurel. The university may condition this support, however, upon the student publication agreeing to comply with applicable policies and regulations governing the use of facilities and equipment. The publication is required to submit all contracts for expenditure or receipt of funds to the institution for prior approval. Assuming the responsibility for educating all students who are editors, managers, and/or staff members of the student publications, the university will provide opportunities for students to receive an education in responsible journalism that can take a variety of forms, but may include supporting the attendance of editors and staff at seminars and/or in classes and staff meetings where students are instructed in the requirements governing professional responsibility, journalistic ethics, liability for communication torts, and constitutional rights.

Instruction in these courses also include an introduction to the guidelines for determining libel and obscenity and the strategies used to protect against them. Accepting the responsibility as the publisher of the student press, the university has the inherent authority to insist upon prior review of all content and to require the use of explicit disclaimers that state in all student publications that the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the university or student body.

Accepting the responsibility for regulating and disciplining student editors, managers, photographers, and/or writers, the university expects students to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism, such as the avoidance of libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, attacks on personal integrity, and the techniques of harassment and innuendo. Students found in violation of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action by the Publications Regulatory and Supervisory Board (composed of the Humanities Division Chair, the Mass Communication Department Head, and the faculty advisers of the newspaper, yearbook, and literary magazine), and the Director of Student Services acting as the authority of the university. In the event a student is charged with any violation of the foregoing conduct regulations, which involves the question of responsibility leading to withdrawal, suspension, or expulsion, the student's case shall be handled in keeping with the disciplinary procedures of the university as stated elsewhere in The Enlightener and the North Greenville University Catalog.

SAFETY PLAN

Emergencies can occur at anytime and without warning. The safety and security of every individual on The North Greenville University campuses is always the primary concern of Campus Security, Student Services and the University. It is unlikely, and we continually pray that we do not experience a disaster at North Greenville University; however, we must be prepared.

CAMPUS WIDE ALARM SOUND IDENTIFICATION:

North Greenville has several different warning systems in place to instruct students, faculty and staff to different problems on campus. One system is the warning siren located on the Campus Security office. There are two different patterns for the siren. First is a continuous sound and second is an alternating sound. When:

- (1) The alarm is a continuous siren sound: take cover inside the building(s)
- (2) The alarm is an alternating siren sound: evacuate the building(s)

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR ALL PEOPLE:

- (1) Be as calm as you can.
- (2) Be aware of what the problem is; what has caused the "Safety Plan" to be initiated so that you will know how to respond.
- (3) Be informed and prepared before an emergency or disaster occurs.
- (4) Follow the instructions of the person(s) in charge.
- (5) When calling Campus Security or 911:
  - (a) Speak calmly and clearly so that you are understood
  - (b) Give your name, telephone number and location
  - (c) The exact location of the emergency or problem
  - (d) The nature and scope of the emergency or problem; i.e. What is the problem? Are there any injuries? How many injuries?
  - (e) Do not hang up the phone until told to do so by the person you are talking to.

Note: If you receive a busy signal and are not able to talk with some one in Campus Security, keep trying until you are able to talk to someone in Campus Security.

- (6) When exiting or evacuating a building or area, be careful of other people, not to push them down, step on them or push other people onto fallen or disabled people.

FACULTY, RESIDENT ASSISTANTS, AND SUPERVISORS SAFETY PLAN RESPONSIBILITIES:

If the alert is to evacuate the building:

- (1) Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should select one or two persons to lead others safely out of the building.
- (2) Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors are responsible for assigning two individuals per disabled person(s) during evacuation.
- (3) Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should check any adjoining areas, such as restrooms or supposedly vacant rooms, to be sure that all persons are notified to evacuate.
- (4) Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should be the last individual(s) to leave the building.
- (5) When everyone has safely evacuated the building, Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors will systematically sweep and check to see that everyone is accounted for. If there are two people searching the building, coordinate the search efforts. If someone is unaccounted for, Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should immediately alert Campus Security on the scene. All students and personnel must operate on the buddy system to make sure all facilities are evacuated.

(6) Do not go into any building after it has been evacuated until the “all clear” has been given by fire department or Campus Security.

(7) Safety drills are planned each semester by Student Services. Both announced and unannounced drills will occur.

(8) Failure to evacuate the residence hall during a drill will result in disciplinary action by student services.

If the alert is to stay in the building:

(1) Faculty, Resident Assistants and Supervisors are to make sure that all people are moved to the safest part of the building as noted in the tornado section of this plan.

(2) Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors are responsible for assigning two (2) individuals per disabled person during relocation to a safer part of the building. Note: A list of the safest part of each building is found under the tornado section of this Security Plan.

(3) If the building is to be locked down, faculty, Residents Assistants and Supervisors are to make sure all doors are locked and people are on the floor and away from windows. Lights should be turned off.

(4) Do not move out of the building unless instructed to do so by local law enforcement or Campus Security.

EVACUATION MEETING POINTS (EMP) ON CAMPUS:

The following places are central meeting places if a building evacuation is ordered. If a building evacuation is ordered, go immediately to the central meeting place closest to the evacuated building. Do not go anywhere other than the Evacuation Meeting Point. Go immediately! Then, identify yourself to the person in charge of the building (faculty, Resident Assistant or supervisor) to insure that everyone has safely evacuated the building and no one is missing.

(2) The tennis courts next to the gym.

(3) The practice football field at the football stadium.

(4) The parking lot next to the Porch Resident house.

(5) The baseball field.

SAFE SHELTERS:

The following places are locations that people outside in the open or in unsafe places can move to if conditions permit.

(2) Underneath the Library in Brisse, in the classrooms.

(3) Bottom of Neves, Neves 101 and 102

FIRE:

Fires are unpredictable, fast and the smoke from the flames and burning of many different types of material that are burned is toxic and deadly. Your safety and the safety of others comes first and foremost.

(1) Sound the building fire alarm. Call 9-911 from a campus telephone or 911 from any other telephone. Campus Security can activate a campus-wide alarm if necessary. Call Campus Security at 7777 from a campus telephone or 977-7777 from any other telephone.

(2) Identify the "Fire Exit" nearest your classroom, office or residence hall room.

(3) Leave the building quickly and in an orderly fashion. Do not stop or go back for personal belongings. Do not use the elevator. Use the stairs. Do not lock doors while leaving the building.

(4) Smoke is the most toxic part of a fire, stay close to the floor.

(5) Assemble at one of the Evacuation Meeting Points listed earlier. Keep out of the way of firemen and police. Remain outside the building. After evacuating, stay with your co-workers/classmates so that Resident Assistants, Supervisors, and Faculty can determine if the building has been safely and completely evacuated

(6) Notify Campus Security on the scene if you suspect someone may still be in the building.

(7) Do not re-enter a building unless the "all clear" has been issued by the fire department or Campus Security.

(8) If you become trapped in the building:

DO NOT PANIC!

(a) Contact Campus Security by using your cell phone

(b) Put an article of clothing large enough to hang outside the window and into the room to mark your location for emergency personnel

(c) If the room has no windows, stay close to the ground; shout out loudly to attract the attention of emergency workers.

Note: If a fire appears to be controllable, first call Campus Security, then alert everyone to the fire, finally, use a fire extinguisher to put out the fire.

VIOLENT CRIME OR HOSTAGE SITUATION:

(1) If possible, remove yourself and others from harm. If it is not possible to remove yourself from the situation, then lock/hide yourself in a room.

(2) Do not attempt to confront, apprehend or interfere with the criminal except in case of self protection.

(3) Notify Campus Security by dialing 7777 from a campus telephone or 977-7777 from any other telephone immediately. Give them your exact location and the location of the suspect(s) including building and classroom. Write down the features such as height, weight, sex, race, clothing, age and name of the person(s) you observed. Then immediately communicate this information to Campus Security. Notify Campus Security with this information when you are talking to them. Also inform Campus Security of any injuries.

(4) Campus Security is to secure buildings and grounds and alert proper civil officials immediately.

(5) Do not try to look or peek out windows or doors to see what is happening.

(6) Do not leave your safe place unless instructed to do so by Campus Security or local law enforcement. Follow their instructions completely.

SEXUAL ASSAULT AND OTHER SENSITIVE CRIMES:

- (1) Try to be as calm as possible. This will help you to think more clearly.
- (2) Go to a safe place.
- (3) Preserve all physical evidence. This includes; NOT taking a bath or shower, NOT brushing your teeth, NOT cleaning your fingernails, NOT changing your clothes. Clean and fresh clothes will be brought or given to you after evidence is collected.
- (4) Call Campus Security at 7777 from a campus telephone or 977-7777 from any other telephone.
- (5) Take time to write down, or describe to someone who writes down what you describe, an accurate description of the assailant. Note features as height, weight, sex, race, clothing, age and name, if known.

MEDICAL EMERGENCIES:

- (1) Do not move a seriously injured person unless it is a life-threatening situation.
  - (2) If you feel you must have immediate help, and it is severe enough that you need EMS dial 9-911 from a campus telephone or 911 from any other telephone. Also, notify Campus Security by dialing 7777 from a campus telephone or 977-7777 from any other telephone.
  - (3) If it is not an immediate medical necessity, call Campus Security and Campus Security will obtain medical help for the person(s) sick or injured. This includes but is not limited to: sprains, insect bites, scrapes, minor burns, splinters, small cuts and puncture wounds, etc.
  - (4) Relay important information to Campus Security, such as: exact location, your name, name of person injured, type of injury, and extent of injury.
  - (5) Do not contact blood or any other bodily fluid because of the possibility of blood borne pathogens unless you are wearing protective gear such as surgical gloves.
  - (6) Stay with the person and reassure them of your presence and tell them that help will soon be with them to look after them.
- Note: Campus Security will notify University officials if the emergency is of a serious nature.

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS:

CHEMICAL SPILLS OR CHEMICAL REACTIONS THAT PRODUCE DEADLY GASES

If the identity of a chemical spill or leak is unknown, treat the spill or leak as toxic material. Treat the spill or leak as representing a danger to you and others. The following steps should be taken:

- (1) Do not attempt to confine or stop the spill or leak. Avoid contact with skin, eyes and clothing. Do not breathe the fumes and vapors. Avoid shutting the doors to the room.
- (2) Sound the building fire alarm so evacuation can begin. Inform people as to the reason the alarm has been sounded.
- (3) Call Campus Security at 7777 from a campus telephone or 977-7777 from any other telephone so that appropriate action can be taken. Campus Security can activate a campus-wide alert if necessary.

- (4) Do not walk through or stand in smoke clouds. Do not breathe the vapors or fumes.
- (5) Assemble at one of the Evacuation Meeting Points listed earlier. After evacuating, stay with your co-workers/classmates so that Resident Assistants, Supervisors, and Faculty can determine if the building has been safely and completely evacuated.
- (6) Call 9-911 from a campus telephone or 911 from any other telephone, giving your name and location if you can not reach Campus Security or requested to do so by Campus Security.
- (7) Do not re-enter a building or return to the area unless the “all clear” has been issued by the fire department or Campus Security.

BOMB THREATS:

Most bomb threats turn out to be false. For the safety and welfare of everyone, Campus Security will not ignore or treat lightly any threat. Each threat is assumed to constitute a clear and present danger to the people on campus and to the campus. If you see something that looks like a bomb or a suspicious package, DO NOT TOUCH IT! MOVE AWAY FROM THE AREA, MOVE OTHER PEOPLE AWAY AND CALL CAMPUS SECURITY. DO NOT USE ANY CELL PHONE OR TWO-WAY RADIO DEVICES.

- (1) Notify Campus Security concerning any suspicious package or any threat received by phone, mail, e-mail, text message or any other means.
- (2) If conditions permit, a quiet search will be made without alarming faculty, students, staff and visitors by Campus Security.
- (3) If the threat appears credible, evacuate the building and area by quietly asking people to leave or by sounding the fire alarm.
- (4) Campus Security will contact local law enforcement and secure the area.
- (5) Movement on campus and access by other people is limited. I.D. cards are to be displayed by all people.
- (6) Do not re-enter an area or building unless the “all clear” is given by local law enforcement or Campus Security.

CIVIL DISTURBANCE:

Civil disturbances include demonstrations, riots or assemblies that become disruptive.

- (3) If you are not in the area, do not go to the area to see what is happening. Avoid the area.
- (4) Close and lock all doors, especially external doors, but do not lock doors to prohibit emergency exits. Close windows and blinds.
- (5) Attempt to continue your normal daily schedule and routine.
- (5) Follow all verbal instructions and commands of Campus Security and local law enforcement.

HAZARDOUS GAS LEAKS:

If a gas cylinder or storage tank is suspected of leaking or there is a suspicious odor, do not attempt to discover where the leak or odor is. Do not attempt to stop the leak unless you are the supervisor responsible for the container. Your safety and the safety of others is paramount. The following steps should be taken:

- (1) Sound the building fire alarm so evacuation can begin.
- (2) Call Campus Security at 7777 from a campus telephone or 977-7777 from any other telephone so that appropriate action can be taken. Campus Security can activate a campus-wide alert if necessary.

(3) Do not walk through or stand in smoke clouds. Do not breathe the vapors or fumes. (4) Assemble at one of the Evacuation Meeting Points listed earlier. After evacuating, stay with your co-workers/classmates so that Resident Assistants, Supervisors, and Faculty can determine if the building has been safely and completely evacuated.

(5) Call 9-911 from a campus telephone or 911 from any other telephone, giving your name and location if you can not reach Campus Security or you are requested to do so by Campus Security.

(2) If time permits, go to the basement or interior hallway on the lowest floor. Shut the doors of the dorm rooms or other rooms that lead to the hallway.

(3) If time does not permit, get into the safest area of your classroom/room/office away from windows and doors.

(4) If you are staying in the hall of a building, close the doors along the hallway.

(5) Stay clear of auditoriums, gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span roofs.

(6) Take shelter underneath your desk or any heavy furniture.

EVACUATION:

Some emergencies require the evacuation of building(s). If a building is to be evacuated, all personnel should assemble at the field in front of the Student Center, 200 feet from the buildings. Never use an elevator to evacuate. Once a building has been evacuated, no person will be permitted to re-enter the building unless authorized personnel give approval. If campus-wide evacuation is necessary, Campus Security will activate the IRIS system.

Immediate Response Information System
(IRIS)

Beginning January 2, 2008 North Greenville University in cooperation with ADT Security and TechRadium, Inc. implemented an Immediate Response Information System (IRIS). This system will allow campus security to send an emergency message to all cell-phones, computer screens, and wireless enabled PDA's listed in the system. In addition, persons receiving the message will be able to respond with a code that will allow campus security to know their location on campus in the event of a campus wide emergency alert.

Three alert levels will be used to communicate with the NGU community:

Level One- Operational Alert

This level will be used to communicate weather related or general information which would call for a change in the normal operation of the campus. Included would be information about the cancellation of classes due to inclement weather, power outages, a change in traffic flow, etc. The message will begin with OA. All information following would be instructions concerning a change in the normal pattern of NGU procedures.

Level Two- Situational Alert

The SA message would be sent in response to an active, credible threat of harm made against the campus via phone, e-mail, mail, or made personally to a student, staff, administrative, or faculty member. The following procedures will be in effect if a Situational Alert is initiated:

1. The threat will be reported to Law Enforcement. Law Enforcement Officials will be advised of our alert status.
2. All doors to classrooms should be closed and locked (if possible) while class is in session.
3. Visitors to the campus will be required to check in with Campus Security.
4. All vehicles locked.
5. Campus Security will establish a checkpoint at the main entrance of the campus to check all incoming traffic.
6. No off campus visitors for students.
7. Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to be on alert and report any suspicious activity to campus security.
8. RA's and Coordinators on alert monitoring activity in student housing.
9. All Campus Security Officers on duty and patrolling the campus.
10. No loitering on campus. Everyone should move quickly across campus to his or her destination.

Level Three-Emergency Alert

An Emergency Alert will be issued in the event a clear and present danger exists on campus. An example would be an armed assailant on campus or a known fugitive in the area. An Emergency Alert message will be accompanied by a long, continuous blast of the campus emergency siren. The following procedures will be in effect if an Emergency Alert is initiated:

1. Stay where you are until the All-Clear (AC) message is sent. The all-clear signal will be accompanied by three short tones by the campus siren. Do not open the door to your office, classroom, or dorm unless directed to do so by Law Enforcement or Campus Security or until the all-clear message is sent and sounded.
2. If possible, lock the door to your office, classroom, or dorm.
3. Stay away from doors and windows.
4. Respond to EA message with your location using abbreviations for campus housing and campus buildings.
5. If the threat is in your immediate area, respond to the EA message with the 911 code following the letters for the building where the threat is located.
6. Take a deep breath, pray, and remain calm. Do not confront an assailant. If the assailant is nearby and you are in an open area where flight is a possibility, clear the area as quickly as possible or seek immediate cover. If you are in a confined area, look for cover or drop to the ground and play dead.
