His power is directly delegated to the Vice-President for Student Life in the areas of student health, discipline, counseling, supervision of the residence halls, campus security and housekeeping. Because of the unique role North Greenville University plays in Christian higher education as part of the South Carolina Baptist Convention, the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees wishes to affirm its long-standing position in regard to these student discipline issues. The policies and procedures described below have been established to insure the rights and privileges of all members of the university community, to communicate the expectations of the community to its members, and to provide a basis for orderly conduct of the affairs of the university. STUDENT CONDUCT AND REGULATIONS

This handbook contains guidelines, policies, and regulations designed to ensure that students conduct themselves, on and off the campus, in a manner that consistently reflects Christian conduct and which upholds the mission and purpose of the university. Each student is fully responsible to know all of the contents of this handbook and to abide by the content while identified with the university. The administration has determined that the university will take all steps necessary to ensure that students abide by all conditions contained in this handbook.

STUDENTS MUST ABIDE BY THE NORTH GREENVILLE UNIVERSITY STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT, BOTH ON AND OFF THE CAMPUS. Any student who refuses to cooperate with university officials forfeits all rights as outlined in this handbook and may be removed from the university property.

Major I Policies

The following areas are considered major by the University: alcohol, drugs, physical assault, sexual misconduct, unauthorized visitation, and violation of outside law. Penalty for being found culpable of a major offense is withdrawal or suspension from school.

Alcoholic Beverages

The possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages by North Greenville University students, whether on campus or off campus, is strictly prohibited. Also, it is prohibited to be under the influence of alcoholic beverages at any time whether on or off campus. Alcoholic beverages include, but are not limited to Beer, Liquor, Wine, Powdered Alcohol or other beverages with alcohol content. Appropriate officials/representatives reserve the right to determine if a student is deemed to be under the influence of alcohol. For university purposes, the ability of a university official/representative to smell alcohol on a student's breath is considered evidence in support of being under the influence of alcohol. Outside law enforcement, gate checks, personal observation, and the use of breathalyzer equipment may be employed to determine whether or not a student is under the influence of alcohol. For a student to possess, consume or be deemed under the influence of alcohol on or off campus is a major policy violation and will result in the immediate loss of privilege to attend North Greenville University. When a question of responsibility is involved, the guidelines listed under Disciplinary Procedures will be exercised.

Drugs

The possession, use (without valid medical or dental prescription), manufacture, furnishing, or sale of any narcotic, mood altering, or dangerous drug controlled by federal or South Carolina law by North Greenville University students, whether on or off campus, is prohibited. Also, it is prohibited to be under the influence of the above. In addition, the possession or use of synthetic drugs or other substances that may be used to alter one's mental or physical state are prohibited, whether or not they are prohibited by federal, state or local law. Appropriate officials/representatives of the university reserve the right to require a student to show proof of a drug-free condition including drug testing whenever such officials/representatives suspect or have reason to believe that an individual(s) might be engaging in drug use on or off campus. Further, the university and its officials/representatives reserve the right to determine what constitutes “suspicion” or “reason to believe” to include common symptoms routinely identified with a person under the influence. For a student to violate the drug policy in any way is a major policy violation and will result in the immediate loss of privilege to attend North Greenville University. When a question of responsibility is involved, those guidelines listed under Disciplinary Procedures shall be exercised. The university reserves the right to use a narcotic - detecting dog whenever drugs are suspected on university property and are undetected by other means.

Physical Assault

No student shall push, strike, or physically assault any member of the faculty, administration, staff, student body, or any visitor to the campus. Breach of this policy is considered a major policy violation and will result in the immediate loss of privilege to attend North Greenville University

Sexual Misconduct

Any individual, or group, who is obscene, lewd, indecent, or participates in any sexual activity outside the bonds of marriage, defined as the legal union of one man and one woman, violates Christian principles and practices. Sexual misconduct by North Greenville University students is harmful to the image and reputation of the individual and the University and therefore will not be tolerated. Students should be careful at all times not to place themselves in situations or activities that may lead to action that could be interpreted as sexual misconduct. Immoral conduct or action such as, but not limited to, adultery, fornication, pre-marital sex, fondling, inappropriate touching, homosexual activity or an open declaration identifying oneself as lesbian, gay, bi-sexual or transgendered are deemed to be in violation of the policy concerning sexual misconduct. In addition, the University will not allow persistent or conspicuous examples of cross-dressing or other expressions or actions that are deliberately discordant with birth gender and will consider those expressions or actions to be in violation of the policy concerning sexual misconduct. Sexual misconduct is considered a major university policy violation and as such any violation of the sexual misconduct policy warrants the individual’s immediate loss of privilege to attend NGU. Whenever university officials/representatives have reason to believe individual students are engaging in any actions or conduct, whether on or off campus, which constitute sexual misconduct, and when a question of responsibility is involved, those guidelines listed under Disciplinary Procedures shall be exercised.

University Visitation

Students are not allowed to visit in the residence halls occupied by the opposite sex. Violation of the university visitation policy is a major offense. The University does sponsor “special event” nights periodically throughout the year and offers designated resident hall common area visitation on a scheduled basis. Students may only visit in the designated common areas at times scheduled by the University. Guidelines for the “special events” and designated areas will be published and must be followed. The established code of conduct must be adhered to during sponsored and designated common area visitation.

Violation of Outside Law

Violation of local, state or federal law, on or off the campus, which violative act constitutes a clear and present danger of material interference with the normal, orderly operation and processes of the university, or with the requirements of appropriate discipline, is prohibited. Any student found culpable or charged by outside law enforcement may be subject to disciplinary action including loss of good standing status and loss of privilege to attend NGU.

Major II Policies

The following general policies are considered to be serious violations of university policy. Violating these policies will result in disciplinary action that could include loss of privilege to attend North Greenville. Guidelines listed under Disciplinary procedures will be exercised.

Academic Integrity

1. No student shall receive or give assistance not authorized by the instructor in the preparation of any essay, laboratory report, examination, or other assignment included in an academic course.
2. No student shall take or attempt to take, steal, or otherwise procure in an unauthorized manner any material pertaining to the conduct of a class, including but not limited to tests, examinations, laboratory equipment, and roll books.
3. No student shall sell, give, lend, or otherwise furnish to any unauthorized person material that can be shown to contain the questions or answers to any examinations scheduled to be given at any subsequent date in any course of study offered by the university, without authorization from the instructor.
4. Plagiarism is prohibited. Themes, essays, term papers, tests, and other similar requirements must be the work of the student submitting them. When direct quotations are used, they must be identified and when the ideas of another are incorporated in the paper they must be appropriately acknowledged.
5. Sanctions for Academic Irregularity: Violations of the Student Conduct Code such as cheating or plagiarism will result in sanctions deemed appropriate for the offense.
Possible sanctions include:
 - a. Assignment failure: a grade of “zero” for the assignment involved.
 - b. Course failure: a grade of “F” for the course in which the offense occurred.

A student can be referred to the Director for Student Life for violations that warrant the following sanctions:

1. Forced withdrawal: withdrawal from the academic course with which the offense occurred without credit for the course. A failing grade may be assigned.
2. Disciplinary Withdrawal or Suspension from the University.

Forced withdrawal, disciplinary withdrawal or suspension without credit from the University can be for as minimal as one offense or multiple offenses. The Director for Student Life will make this determination with the assistance of one of the following Vice Presidents: Student Life, Academics, or Admissions and Financial Aid.

Academic Integrity and Courses that Employ online Components

Courses at NGU that employ online components, mainly “online” (or distance/DE) and “hybrid,” require a higher level of maturity and ethical standards on the part of the student. Instructors in these courses tend to post material to the course and expect the students to access it. Hard copies are rarely, if ever, distributed in these types of courses. The mention that specified resources are on the website, implies that the student is expected to access the materials for themselves and take whatever action is needed.

Ethically, the student in these types of courses must recognize that their education is their own responsibility and they must rely upon themselves to maintain their moral and ethical standards and avoid the temptation to take short cuts. Online/DE courses (also called “asynchronous” courses) in particular differ significantly in some respects to a course offered in a traditional classroom setting where the student and the instructor meet face-to-face on a regular basis during the semester. These courses ordinarily require a large amount of reading and constant attention to detail. The course syllabus spells out how the course works. Students cannot afford to ignore or never read all of the introductory materials to a course. To do so will result in a failure to follow procedures and thus lose points on their grades. Courses that employ online components are rarely easier than traditional courses. They are more accessible and allow for greater flexibility in one’s daily schedule.

Students who enroll in these types of courses must possess adequate computer and Internet resources. Students are required to have reliable access to a reliable computer to fulfill the course requirements. The computer must be able to access and manipulate Blackboard® and the other software used in the course. The computer must be loaded with compatible software. It is absolutely necessary that your word processing software be capable of manipulating Microsoft Word® files, and probably Microsoft Excel compatibility is also a minimum requirement. Some courses will require other and perhaps higher level software compatibility. Students using Mac machines sometimes encounter problems with Blackboard®. At this time, NGU is able to offer very little help for Mac users in these areas of compatibility. Failure to have a reliable computer, Internet connection, and/or compatible software are not reasons for failure to complete work on a timely basis in any course that requires online submissions. NGU offers computers for student use in a variety of locations on campus such as the library and the computer laboratories.

Disorderly Assembly

1. No student shall assemble on campus for the purpose of creating a riot, or destruction, or disorderly diversion that interferes with the normal operation of the university. This section should not be construed so as to deny any students the right of peaceful, non-disruptive assembly.

2. No student or group of students shall obstruct the free movements of other persons about the campus, interfere with the use of university facilities, or materially interfere with the normal operation of the university.

Disorderly Conduct

Students must be aware of the university's commitment to having a student body environment which discourages exaggerated conduct that draws attention to oneself or to a group. Boisterous, excessively noisy and loud comments and expressions (language), and unrestrained activity are not considered to be reasonable student conduct. Students who make personal choices to ignore the university's request for orderly conduct will be subject to disciplinary action. Students should always make the effort to enjoy themselves, their friends, and others while also keeping in mind the desire of the university to have an orderly and well-behaved campus environment.

No student shall take, attempt to take, or keep in his or her possession, items of university property, or items belonging to students, faculty, staff, student groups, visitors to the campus, or others outside the university community without proper authorization. The unauthorized use of a school issued key is considered a violation of the theft policy.
2. Whenever a theft occurs, the student must immediately contact the Office of Campus Security and Student Life. The university will conduct an investigation, including searches, when deemed appropriate. The County Sheriff’s Department may be asked to assist with any investigation. North Greenville University cannot be responsible for any personal items students bring onto campus.
3. No student shall sell a textbook that is not his or her own without written permission of the owner.
4. Unauthorized use of any telephone is prohibited.

Vandalism

Malicious or intentional damage or destruction of property belonging to the university, to a member of the university community, or to a visitor to the campus is prohibited.

1. Students are prohibited from possession of firearms, knives, bows, arrows, sling shots, water guns, BB or pellet guns, paintball guns, fake weapons of real appearance, or other weapons on university property or at events sponsored or supervised by the university or any recognized university organization, unless authorized in writing by the Director of Student Life or Public Safety. Pocket knives with exposed blades that do not exceed 3” in length are allowed. As a point of reference, one can use a NGU ID card as reference. The ID cards are 3” in length; if a blade is no longer than an ID card, it is allowed to be carried on campus. Any blade exceeding 3” in length will be confiscated. Confiscated weapons will be destroyed and a receipt given to the owner.

Therefore, the University's President or his designated appointee reserves the right to deny access to any person or group whose actions, intentions, or beliefs are contrary to the University's mission.

If the device does not have the silent/buzz mode then the device should be turned off. While in class, chapel or cultural events phones should remain in your pocket or purse. Students may not use phones for calls, text messaging, games or other uses during class, chapel or cultural events. Faculty may impose standards for use in addition to this policy.

The University employs a number of students through the work-study program. When in the performance of their assigned duties, these students are working in the capacity of student employees and must be treated with the same respect as other employees.

Heed to University Officials and Representatives

School-Related Trips

All of the above rules and regulations are in force from the beginning to the end of any and all school-related trips.

Closing Policies Statement

Students, whether on campus or off campus, must abide by all university policies and regulations at all times. The reputation of the university, as well as the individual student's ability to succeed, is at stake. Each student is to be aware, at all times, that attendance at North Greenville University is a privilege and not a right. Students identified with the university must demonstrate conduct that clearly fits into the Christ-Centered spirit of the institution.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND ASSAULT POLICY AND GUIDELINES

North Greenville University is committed to providing an environment free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment by any member of the university community is a violation of both the law and university policy and will not be tolerated. Both males and females can be victims of sexual harassment, and both males and females can be perpetrators of sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is an issue that may affect any member of the university community and will be dealt with promptly by the administration.

Definitions of Sexual Harassment

For Students, harassment on the basis of sex is a violation of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, which prohibits sex discrimination in educational programs and activities. Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's status in a course, program, or activity;
 2. Submission to such conduct is used as the basis for academic decisions affecting the individual, including, but not limited to, grade or academic progress;
- OR
3. When the conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with the individual's academic performance, or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive educational environment.

The basic point to remember is that sexual harassment is unwanted, unsolicited, or undesired attention of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment is a breach of the trusting relationship that normally exists between the employer-employee and the professor- student. Boundaries between the professional role and the personal relationship blur because the harasser introduces the personal element into what should be a sex -neutral situation. Sexual harassment can be exhibited verbally or physically. Examples of sexual harassment include: unwelcome sexual innuendoes, suggestive or insulting sounds, whistling in a suggestive manner, or humor and jokes about sex or (wo)men in general, implied or overt threats, and unwelcome patting, pinching, or touching.

Who can be Sexually Harassed?

Both males and females can be victims of sexual harassment, and both males and females can be perpetrators of sexual harassment. Sexual harassment can occur between supervisor and employee; coworker and coworker; campus visitor and university employee; professor and student, and student and student.

What you can do if you are Sexually Harassed

1. Know your rights: See “Sexual Assault Victims’ Bill of Rights” section below. Sexual harassment is illegal and university policy prohibits any university employee (faculty, staff, and student employees) or student from engaging in sexual harassment.
2. Speak up at the time: Say "NO!" clearly, firmly, and without smiling. This is not the time to be polite or vague. By being quiet, you enable the harassment to continue. Speaking up can protect others from being victimized and may decrease your feelings of helplessness.
3. Don't Blame Yourself: Sexual harassment is unwanted action that the harasser decides to take. It is not your fault.
4. Don't Delay: If you delay action, the harassment is likely to continue. An employee or student can report harassment to the following:
 - a. Title IX Coordinator Robin McCarter
Upstairs in the Craft Hemphill Building
(864) 977-2008 or robin.mccarter@ngu.edu
 - b. Campus Security (864) 977-7777 – Cooper 23
 - c. Director for Student Life Billy Watson
(864) 977-7123
 - d. Office of Campus Ministries Dr. Steve Crouse or Beth Ross
(864) 977-7022
 - e. Tuttle Clinic Kathy Bailey
(864) 977-7170
 - f. Counseling Services: Sue Suomi (864) 977-2094
Steven Bielby (864) 663-0249
Jared Thomas (864) 663-0148

If you are an observer of what you perceive to be sexual harassment, you can also take steps to stop this form of discrimination. You can:

- a. Speak up: Inform the harasser that his/her actions may be perceived as sexual harassment.

- b. Support the victim: Provide comfort and assurance to the victim.
- c. Report the incident: Talk to appropriate persons. (Title IX Coordinator, Campus Security, Campus Ministries, Health or Counseling Services).

It is important for persons (victims and observers) to seek advice in determining if what they are experiencing is sexual harassment. Seeking advice can also provide information on how to keep what are initial overtures from developing into harassment. Oftentimes, persons may feel that they can handle the situation when in fact they cannot. It is helpful to the university to know if such activities are occurring. Reporting the incident whether one decides to file an official complaint or not, benefits the victim, the university, and future students or employees.

Safeguards for Parties Involved

Sexual harassment is a particularly sensitive issue that can affect any member of the university community. Prompt action will be taken on every complaint. Each reported incident will be handled on a case by case basis to determine whether the alleged violation occurred and if appropriate disciplinary action is warranted. Disciplinary actions for violations may include the following: oral and/or written reprimand, reassignment, suspension, counseling, termination, or any combination thereof. Student offenders may be disciplined under the Standards of Conduct listed in The Enlightener.

Confidentiality of all parties involved will be respected to the extent allowed by law. Complaint procedures are designed to ensure protection of the civil rights of all parties.

Sexual Assault Victims' Bill of Rights

In accordance with Section 485 of the Higher Education Act of 1965, these rights are given to victims of campus related sexual assaults:

- The right to have any and all sexual assaults against them treated with seriousness; and the right, as victims, to be treated with dignity; and the right for North Greenville University (NGU) organizations which assist such victims to be recognized.
- The right to have sexual assaults committed against them investigated by North Greenville University Campus Security and Student Life and The University Title IX Coordinator; and the right to the full and prompt cooperation and assistance of personnel in notifying the proper authorities. This action shall be in addition to the disciplinary proceedings established by NGU.
- The right to be free from any kind of pressure from any NGU entity that victims (a) not report crimes committed against them to NGU Campus Security, and disciplinary officials for civil or criminal action: or (b) report crimes as lesser offenses than the victims perceive them to be.
- The right to be free from any kind of suggestion that sexual assault victims not report, or under-report, crimes committed on campus because:
 - victims are somehow "responsible" for the commission of crimes against them;
 - victims were contributory negligent or assumed the risk of being assaulted; or,
 - by reporting crimes they would incur unwanted personal publicity.
- In any campus disciplinary hearing, the accused and accuser(s) have the right to have a family member present with them at the hearing. No lawyers will be allowed at the disciplinary hearing for either party. Both the accused and accuser have the right to be notified of the hearing outcome. The sanctions for the accused in cases of sexual assault will be determined by the individual or body hearing the charges. Sanctions may include any sanction deemed appropriate in The Enlightener or Employee Handbook.
- The right to full and prompt cooperation from NGU personnel in obtaining, securing, and maintaining evidence (including medical examination) as may be necessary for proof of criminal sexual assault in subsequent legal proceedings.
- The right to be made aware of and assisted in exercising any options as provided by State and Federal laws or regulations with regard to mandatory testing of sexual assault suspects for communicable diseases and with regard to notification to victims of the results of such testing.
- The right to counseling from any mental health services previously established by NGU, by other victim-service entities, or by services acquired by victims themselves.
- After campus assaults have been reported, the victims of such crimes shall have the right to require that NGU authorities take the necessary steps or actions reasonably feasible to prevent any unnecessary or unwanted contact with or proximity to reported assailants, including immediate relocation of the reported victim to safe and secure alternative housing and transfer of classes if so requested by the victim.
- In addition, students, whether sexual assault victims or not, have a right to habitability (*) in on-campus housing accommodations for which NGU may receive any compensation, direct or indirect. Substantiated violations of these provisions shall be corrected by campus personnel with relocation of the complainant to acceptable, safe, and secure alternative housing as soon as possible, unless conditions warrant other immediate action by campus personnel.

RESIDENCE REGULATIONS

It is expected that students living in Housing and Residence Life will cooperate with the Housing and Residence Life staff and with each other in maintaining a routine of living conducive to rest, study, relaxation, reasonable social interaction, and to wholesome university life. Living in residence is a privilege, and the university reserves the right to revoke this privilege whenever the actions of a resident are not conducive to good study habits, interferes with the rights of others, or are not in keeping with the purpose of the university. Also, a commuter student has the same responsibilities as the resident student where the same regulations and policies apply.

Residency Requirements

1. Beginning with the Fall 2014 semester, all new, readmitted or continuing students (continuing students include any student living on campus for the Spring 2014 semester) are required to live on campus for a minimum of 8 consecutive regular (Fall/Spring) semesters. The following exemptions are allowed with the submission of a Housing Exemption Form and proper documentation.
 - a. Students who have completed eight (8) consecutive regular semesters in housing according to the 2015-16 Housing Policy and Contract.
 - b. Students over the age of 23 as of August 19, 2015.
 - c. Married Students. (Any student getting married during a particular semester must get married before the mid-term date of the semester to be eligible for this exemption.) Students who are married are not allowed to live on campus.
 - d. Students living with immediate family or legal guardian are exempt from this requirement upon presentation of proper documentation. "Immediate Family" includes parents, adult sibling (over the age of 25), grandparents, or adult aunts and uncles. Legal guardian status must be verified by court order.
2. All incoming transfer students are initially exempt from the housing requirement with proper submission of a Housing Exemption Form. However, if a transfer student initially resides on campus, they must reside on campus until their NGU enrolled regular semesters and their full-time transfer regular semesters equal 8 regular semesters. Transfer students who initially live on campus can also meet the exemptions outlined in paragraph 1. above in subsequent academic years.
3. Students who live with immediate family members may commute to North Greenville University from the following counties only: in South Carolina – Anderson, Greenville, Laurens, Pickens, and Spartanburg; in North Carolina – Henderson and Polk. The Office of Student Life is responsible for the approval of any exceptions. The student seeking exception must place his or her appeal in writing to the Office of Student Life.
4. All international students must live in the University's residential housing system. The only exceptions are international students living at home with parents (meeting the requirements listed in section III above) or living with a spouse.
5. No student may reside within five miles of the University unless residing at home with a legal parent, immediate family member or guardian.

6. All students who sign the "Housing Contract" are bound to the terms of the contract as of August 1, 2015 whether or not they meet the requirements as outlined above.
7. The continuing student shall pay the University a non-refundable fee of $50 upon submission of the housing contract. The new student is required to submit a $200.00 pre-enrollment deposit to the Office of Admissions. If the student pays by check and the check is returned by the student's bank, the student's application shall be held aside and not processed unless and until payment is made.
8. The contract becomes binding on August 1st, 2015, and the student shall pay the balance due as required by North Greenville University Business Office policies. If the student enrolls and fails to occupy the assigned room, full cost of the space and meal plan will nonetheless be due.
9. Upon occupancy of the room, the student incurs the full cost of the semester's housing charges and full payment is due. After occupancy there are no refunds, full or prorated, for housing charges. Occupancy of the assigned room is established when a student officially checks into housing and receives a room key even if the student subsequently withdraws from the University
10. The term of this contract is based upon the general University calendar and is for one academic year (fall and spring semesters), commencing on the first day of the fall semester and terminating within twenty-four (24) hours of the student's final spring semester exam or upon the student's graduation but not including official recesses. The term of this contract for the student entering spring semester is for that semester only, commencing on the first day of spring semester and terminating within twenty-four (24) hours of the student's final exam or upon the student's graduation. Summer sessions will be based on the University calendar and in accordance with the particular session in which the student is registered.
11. The University shall have the right to terminate this contract if the student fails to occupy the assigned space on or before the first day of the class and does not give proper notice of late arrival to the Office of Student Life and forfeits any reservation fee paid to hold said space.
12. The University shall have the right to terminate this contract immediately upon the breach of any term of this contract by the student, specifically including violation of any University regulation by the student whether such regulation be now in effect or later enacted and publicized.
13. If a student enrolls for the spring semester, the contract is valid. Students that live on campus must be enrolled for at least 12 semester hours.
14. The student shall have the right to terminate the housing contract for non-enrollment, academic suspension, graduation, marriage (termination to occur no more than four weeks prior to the wedding date), or if the student is participating in a school-sponsored internship more than 30 miles away from the University. Documentary evidence will be required by the University to show just cause for cancellation.

Each group must clean, restore furniture to its original position, and empty trash and garbage bags before leaving. Failure to properly care for the meeting area will result in the loss of privilege for future use.

Any woman who is pregnant and wants to receive campus housing may be denied such a request by the Director of Student Life.

If such a situation is discovered during the course of the school year the student may be subject to termination of residence privilege.

The Residence Coordinator may move Residents from one room to another and from one hall to another in the residence halls when it seems advisable. Students who are in rooms by themselves will be consolidated with another student. When necessary, who moves will be determined by seniority based on date of the initial prepayment to enter the university. When available, students may request private rooms. However, students requesting private rooms must pay the entire cost associated with the room (i.e. double board charges will be charged to the student bill).

The room change request deadline is the Wednesday after the first day of classes.

Improper room check-out/clearance will result in at least a loss of damage deposit. The deposit must be reinstated to 100% before a student may return to the hall. Residents will forfeit their room damage deposit for rooms vacated and not left in a satisfactory manner. Additional fines may be assessed.
10. Room Eligibility: Resident students must take a minimum full time class load of twelve hours in order to remain in residence. Residents who attend for fall semester and return for the following spring semester must continue to reside in the hall unless otherwise approved.

The university IS NOT responsible for theft or damages. The university cannot supply safe deposit or offer secure facilities for maintaining valuables. Students are discouraged from bringing valuables or keeping sums of money in their rooms. The University strongly suggests that students purchase insurance for their personal belongings.

Resident Assistants

The University employs students to serve as Resident Assistants (RA) in Housing and Residence Life and in the Student Center. It is the responsibility of these students to assist the Director of Student Life, the Residence Hall Coordinators, Assistant Coordinators, and the Coordinator of Student Activities in maintaining the proper atmosphere for rest, study, relaxation, recreation, and healthy living on campus. Resident Assistants are selected for their ability to communicate with others, their willingness to accept responsibility, and their desire to be helpful to others. The RA is a primary resource person in the residence halls and in the Student Center for information and assistance. Although not a disciplinarian, RAs are responsible for ensuring that all students abide by all policies. RAs will issue incident reports to students who are found to be in violation of university policies. RAs are employees of the university and must be treated with the same respect as any other employee.

Room Search Procedures

Student Life staff reserves the right to search any room or automobile at any time that such action is deemed to be in the best interests of the University in accordance with Search Procedures. These procedures are as follows:

1. A resident of the room may be present during room search.
2. University officials must conduct room search.
3. If present, the resident should observe the opening of all drawers, suitcases, or other closed containers.
4. Anything that is prohibited by university rules shall be confiscated and turned over to the Director of Student Life. University officials will file a report in Student Life.
5. Students found to be in violation of university regulations shall be formally charged by the Director of Student Life or his representative.
6. Room inspections for orderliness, cleanliness and/or damages do not necessarily constitute a room search. However, a resident's room, student's vehicle, student's personal belongings or the student may be searched when university officials have reason to believe a search is in order. Reasons to believe include searches to insure that all university policies are being observed at all times by students. Searches will include the opening of drawers, storage space, and other places where alcohol, drugs, tobacco products, pornographic materials, or other kinds of contraband or unauthorized materials might be hidden. The Student Life Staff will make periodic checks. The one inspecting may confiscate contraband that is openly visible and formal notice made of their findings by the Director of Student Life. Therefore, it can be used as evidence that might incriminate the student.
7. Any student may be searched physically by a university official.
8. The university reserves the right for a university official to enter any room at any time.

Solicitation

Sales or solicitations of any kind are not permitted in the residence halls without specific written permission from the Director of Student Life.

Trash Disposal

Trashcans are located in convenient places at the residence halls. No trash is to be swept into the hallways at any time. Clothes-drying racks may not be placed in the halls, walkways, or stairwells. Rugs may not be shaken or left in these areas.

Visitation

Students are not allowed to visit in the residence halls occupied by the opposite sex. Violation of the university visitation policy is a major offense. The University does sponsor "special event" nights periodically throughout the year and offers designated resident hall common area visitation on a scheduled basis. Students may only visit in the designated common areas at times scheduled by the University. Guidelines for the "special events" and designated areas will be published and must be followed. The established code of conduct must be adhered to during sponsored and designated common area visitation.

Designated lounge areas can be used for visitation during scheduled time sponsored by the Office of Student Life. The university policy on public displays of affection will be enforced in these lounge areas. Unless entering approved residence lounge areas for visitation, students may not cross the curb areas enclosing the residence halls of the opposite sex. The university does not permit open visitation.

When dropping female students off at their dorms, male students may drive up to the front of Howard, Trustee, or Self; however, they must leave in a timely manner. It is not permissible to remain in parked car for a prolonged period of time in these areas.

When dropping male students off at their dorms, female students may not drive past the entrance gates of Crusader Court. Male residents of Crusader Court, Georgia, or Marshall must be dropped off at the entrance gate for the Crusader Court area. Male residents living in Bruce, the Units, or Anthony may be dropped off either from the main road or in the Units' parking lot. It is not permissible to remain in a parked car for a prolonged period of time in these areas.

Persons of the opposite sex are allowed to drop off and pick up students at any house used by Residence Life. When picking up, the driver must remain in the drive-way and must leave in a timely manner. When dropping off, the resident must exit the car in a timely manner and the driver must leave in a timely manner. It is not permissible to remain in the driveway of a house for a prolonged period of time due to traffic flow needs.

Students of the opposite sex must not sit in any parked car anywhere on campus. When being dropped off at the resident halls or houses the person being dropped off must exit the car in a timely manner.

STUDENT ACCOUNTABILITY

University regulations provide guidelines for college life. A student is expected to display an attitude in which cooperation, good judgment, and good taste are standards of life at the university. Regulations are designed to protect the interests and well-being of the student, his or her family, the university, and society. Disciplinary measures are designed to be corrective and beneficial to the educational development of the student. Students who withdraw must follow established procedure including clearances from Student Life, Academic Affairs, Registrar, Business Office, Financial Aid and Housing. Any student who refuses to cooperate with university officials forfeits all rights as outlined in the Enlightener and may be removed from university property.

Incident Reports will be issued primarily for students residing in the Residence Halls, but Incident Reports can be issued to any student or guest when the situation dictates. All students are expected to be knowledgeable of and respond properly concerning the information in the Enlightener.

Disciplinary Procedures

When a student is charged with violation of the foregoing conduct regulations, which involves the question of responsibility leading to withdrawal or suspension, the student's case shall be in keeping with the procedures outlined below:

1. The Director of Student Life shall investigate the alleged violation thoroughly. The investigation of any offense may include a polygraph test or other form of truth test should the Director of Student Life deem it necessary. If the use of truth testing is necessary, the student will be responsible for payment of the polygraph examination and any other charges that accompany the polygraph exam or other form of truth test unless exonerated.

The student must appeal in writing within 24 hours. The written appeal must be given to the Director of Student Life.
5. The decision of the three member appeal panel shall be final.

HEALTH SERVICES & COUNSELING

The University employs a full-time medical staff that provides health services through the Tuttle Clinic. Students needing medical assistance can go to the clinic during posted clinic hours. If a student feels they are too sick to visit the clinic, the student must call Student Life at 7121 and Student Life will assist them in getting immediate medical attention. During the evening hours and on weekends, students need to call Public Safety and they will contact Student Life. Students must pay a $35 per semester fee in order to see the doctor.

Health Services Objective

Provide professional and confidential care concerning health issues.

Health Center Policies

All students must have a completed health form on file in Tuttle Clinic.

Students with incomplete or nonexistent files will be denied final registration or class attendance.

1. All students must provide documentation of Tetanus or Td, Tdap is preferred, OPV/OPI (4)(Polio), MMR (2) (measles, mumps and rubella), Tuberculin skin test (TB) within the last year, Meningitis Vaccine, Hepatitis B- 3pediatric doses or 2 adult doses
2. The student is required to complete and return the health form. If a student has any health problems, the student must have an interview with the medical staff to plan the student's health care.
3. Students are to observe the Health Center hours, but emergencies are to be reported immediately. Parents/guardians of students who are deemed to need care and refuse such may be notified immediately by the university.
4. Any illness should be reported to the university medical staff prior to the students' classes that day. If illnesses occur during the day, the student must report to the clinic immediately in order for the staff to evaluate the health situation and determine appropriate care.
5. The medical staff is not responsible for any medication that does not go through the Health Center.
6. The medical staff is not responsible for the misuse of any medication or the failure of a student to comply with medical advice received.
7. Primary health care is provided for the student at the Tuttle Clinic located on campus. Should a student receive medical services elsewhere, the student is responsible for charges incurred. Transportation to and from medical services off campus is the responsibility of the student being served.
8. Students in an unstable condition or in an unsafe condition to be carried by car must be transported by EMS. Students should have a copy of insurance card or know the name of the insurance company to tell the doctor's office. The university is not responsible for medical bills incurred by students.

9. If a student is ill, the medical staff will determine whether the student may remain in the residence hall or be sent home.
10. The student is responsible for obtaining routine medical assistance and for follow-up medical care.
11. Notification for class absences may be given by university medical staff prior to non-attendance. If a serious illness was cause of absence without prior medical approval, the clinic staff will attempt to verify the illness and decide if an absence note is appropriate.
12. When a student has health problems and is seen by a physician, other than the university doctor, the student should report to the university medical staff regarding the findings.
13. Students are required to leave a deposit for any equipment used from the clinic. The deposit will be dependent upon the equipment needed. If not returned the student will lose the deposit and be charged the replacement price of the equipment.
14. If the medical staff is not on duty, an alternate plan has been set up for emergencies. The alternate plan includes contacting:
 - a. Student Life Staff including your RA or coordinator, or Public Safety Staff.
 - b. Calls may also be made to First Response and to 911, EMS. Emergency services are available at Hospital in Greer and North Greenville Emergency Room in Travelers Rest. Notify Public Safety if a 911 call is made.
 - c. Additional procedures are established under Health Services. See directly below.
15. Except in cases of emergency, students must come to the Clinic for treatment.

Health Services Procedures

4. Self-care including visit to physician, private medical care clinic, or emergency room.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SERVICES POLICY

By using the technology provided at North Greenville University, you agree to abide by the following policies for acceptable use.

Network Acceptable Use

The NGU network must not be used for any activity that does not support the mission and purposes of North Greenville University. If a particular usage is not in the best interest of the University, or if it does not support the University's mission and purposes, then it must not be performed.

1. Deliberate disruption of NGU technology resources is expressly prohibited, including any action intended to disrupt system services, user accounts, network performance, Internet access or any other technology resources.
2. Students must not make any unauthorized copies of copyrighted software. Software provided by NGU is purchased under software licensing agreements that place legal restrictions on their use and copying.
3. The NGU network must not be used for any unlawful purposes. Specifically, resources must not be used by anyone to transmit threatening, obscene, harassing, or pornographic materials. Any attempts to penetrate a remote site without proper authorization are strictly forbidden.
4. Students must not intentionally seek information about, browse, copy, or modify files or passwords belonging to other students. Students must not attempt to decrypt or translate encrypted material not intended for them or obtain system privileges to which they are not entitled. If a network security exposure is encountered or observed, it must be reported to Information Technology Services (ITS) immediately.
5. The use of p2p (peer-to-peer) "file sharing" applications is strictly prohibited. First, Copyright infringement is illegal and subject to federal and civil prosecution. Second, a large percentage of files being downloaded are indecent, obscene, and a violation of the University's mission and purpose as a Christian institution. Third, the excessive traffic generated by file sharing applications is wasteful of network resources, causing significant problems for all network users.
6. Students are strictly prohibited from attaching any wired or wireless "network device" to any campus network connection that functions as a bridge or routing device. Such network devices include routers, switches, bridges, access points, and any printer or streaming device that functions as a bridge or router. With the exception of end-point wired hubs, wireless printers, or wireless streaming devices (which students may install in their rooms as needed), the installation and configuration of any network devices on the University's network is solely the responsibility of the ITS department.
7. Students may not run any network services (e.g., DHCP, DNS, WINS, FTP, NAT, etc.) via any kind of file server or web server or host any Internet-based services on a computer or laptop.

8. Students may not circumvent firewall or Internet filtering functions by using tunneling or proxy server techniques.
9. The University provides wireless service across campus, including all computer labs, classrooms, and residential buildings. If anyone other than an authorized employee installs an unauthorized or unregistered device on the campus network, such device will be confiscated and the offender will face applicable disciplinary sanctions.
10. Students must not create or willfully disseminate computer viruses. Students must install anti-virus software on their desktops or laptops and must take adequate steps to ensure that virus signature/update files are maintained and updated regularly.
11. Students must regularly (at least once a month) apply operating system patches as provided by the OS vendor (Apple, Microsoft). Assistance in applying OS patches can be obtained from the ITS Helpdesk.
12. Students need to be aware that there are federal, state, and sometimes local laws that govern certain aspects of computer and telecommunications use. Students are expected to respect these laws and to observe and respect University rules and regulations.
13. Any questionable use must be considered “not acceptable.” In cases where it may be necessary to request an exception to any of these policies, such requests must be submitted in advance to the ITS Department for review and possible approval.

E-Mail Acceptable Use Policy

E-mail services are provided by NGU and should be used to support the mission and purposes of the University.

1. E-mail services may be used for incidental personal purposes provided such use:
 - a. Does not directly or indirectly interfere with the operations or e-mail services of the University
 - b. Does not burden the University with noticeable incremental cost
 - c. Does not interfere with the e-mail user’s employment or other obligations to the University.
2. Students are not permitted to send e-mail solicitations and must not forward e-mail chain letters to any person, on or off campus, except to forward a message to the ITS Department.
3. Only authorized employees may send broadcast e-mail messages. Unauthorized users are specifically prohibited from using the University’s Address Book to harvest e-mail addresses for bulk e-mail purposes. Requests to send broadcast e-mail messages may be submitted to Student Life.
4. Students should be aware of the following:
 - a. E-mail is less private than users may anticipate.
 - b. Deleted e-mail may persist on backup facilities and thus be subject to disclosure under state and federal law.
 - c. E-mail stored on University equipment, whether or not created on University equipment, constitutes a University record subject to disclosure.
 - d. The University cannot protect users from receiving all e-mails they may find offensive.

- e. Students are strongly encouraged to use the same personal and professional courtesies and considerations in e-mail as they would in other forms of communication.

Internet Acceptable Use Policies

High-speed Internet services are provided by NGU and should be used to support the mission and purposes of the university.

1. Web site filtering is performed to block Internet sites that are offensive, malicious, bandwidth intensive, illegal or unethical. Web sites in categories that will be blocked include but are not limited to the following: adult content, gambling, hacking, audio/video streaming, pornography, tastelessness, sexuality and violence.
2. It is a violation of the Internet Acceptable Use Policy for any student to bypass or attempt to bypass the Web content filtering controls used on the NGU network.
3. If a particular website is blocked and a student needs access to this site as part of their approved academic purposes, a request to unblock the site must be sent to the ITS Helpdesk by the student's professor. Requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis.
4. The Director of ITS will review the request and ultimate approval to unblock a site will come from the Vice President for Academics.
5. Gaming is restricted to evening and weekend hours only. Students are advised to use wired connections to gain maximum performance and preserve wireless bandwidth for other purposes. Students must not attempt to bypass content filtering or band restrictions for the purpose of playing games that violate the University's content policy or supported hours

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTIES POLICY

Purpose

North Greenville University is committed to fostering an environment that supports the teaching, learning, scholarship and other creativity of its faculty, staff, and students. Thus, the intellectual Property Policy covers all types of intellectual property, including works protected by copyright and patent and trade secrets.

Definitions

1. Intellectual Property. Intellectual Property includes creative ideas and other expressions of human ingenuity that receive the legal protection of a property right. Expressions of Intellectual Property include any copyrightable material, trade secret, or patentable invention. It also includes creations, works of art, or inventions that might be normally developed on a proprietary basis.
2. Creator. Creator signifies any person (s) who create an item of intellectual property.
3. Substantial use. Substantial use of University facilities means the use of University facilities, personnel, equipment and other resources, to an extent greater than that which occurs in the normal and regular course of one's undertaking to perform and carry out the task for which one has been employed, or which is greater than the use afforded to students in the regular course of their studies. The use of University equipment or other resources is deemed "substantial" when it entails a level or kind of use not normally available to virtually all of the faculty, staff, and students. Incidental use of a University facility does not constitute substantial use—the facility must be important to the creation of an intellectual property.

Intellectual Property Types

Types of intellectual property also include (1) internally sponsored works; (2) externally sponsored works; and (3) substantial use of University facilities.

1. Internally Sponsored Work. Internally sponsored work refers to work for which the University provides funds or other facilities that rise to the level of substantial use. When the university provides funds or other facilities in the generation of a particular project to the extent of substantial use, it may also choose to declare itself the owner of the intellectual property resulting from the project. The University by way of the Executive Council will provide in writing in advance the disposition of any intellectual property rights arising from a proposed project. Any proposed project must be approved in advance through normal University channels with final approval to be given by the Executive Council.
2. Externally Sponsored Work. Externally sponsored work refers to work conducted under an agreement between an external sponsor and the University that also specifies the ownership of such intellectual property in the agreement.
3. Intellectual Property Created within the Scope of Employment. In cases where University employees are specifically asked to create a particular intellectual property, such property shall be owned by the University if said intellectual property was not produced within the normal scope of their employment. Faculty are presumed not to be hired to produce a particular intellectual property. Computer programs generated on the job by faculty and staff computer programmers fall under this provision. Material created for ordinary teaching use in the classroom and in departmental programs, such as presentations, syllabi, assignments, class notes, and tests shall remain the property of the faculty author, but institutions shall be permitted to use such material for internal instructional, educational, and administrative purposes, including satisfying requests of accreditation agencies for faculty authored syllabi and course descriptions.
4. Individual Agreements. Intellectual property that is the subject of a specific agreement between creator (s) and the University shall be owned as provided in the said agreement.
5. Other intellectual Property. Intellectual property created by University staff employees and students not within the scope of employment, not by agreement, and not internally or externally sponsored, shall be owned by the University if the creation involved substantial use of University facilities: if there was no substantial usage, then the creation will be owned by the creator. Prevention of unauthorized use of University facilities is the rationale for this provision.

6. Consulting Agreements. Work performed by individuals who serve as consultants to outside entities is not to involve substantial use of University facilities, and the rights to any intellectual property created under consulting agreements are retained by the outside entities or the individual as specified by the terms of the agreement. A member of the University community engaged in business or consulting work is responsible for ensuring that the provisions and work in the agreement do not conflict with the University's mission and values, are not in conflict with the University's policies concerning other employment, and do not prevent the University employee from fulfilling his or her responsibilities to the University. A creator of intellectual property should make his obligation to the University clear with those whom he or she makes such agreements and should also ensure that outside entities are provided with a current copy of the University's intellectual property policy. No member of the University will represent themselves to be, nor will they act in a manner which would reasonably cause another to conclude that they are agents of the University and thereby authorized to act on behalf of the University in dealings with outside entities in regard to dealings regarding contracts, grants, sponsored research, or other undertakings.

Policy Provisions

The creator (s) of any intellectual property that might be owned or is owned by the University under this policy is required to make a written disclosure of the work to the University's President in a reasonably prompt time. Furthermore, said creator (s) are to execute any document deemed necessary to perfect legal rights in the University and enable the University to file copyright applications and patent applications when appropriate. The above-mentioned disclosure to the President should be made at the time when legal protection for the creation is contemplated, and it must be made before the intellectual property is used for profit, sold, or disclosed to the public. Regular records should be kept by all persons engaged in such creative activity whenever legal protection for the creation is contemplated.

Distribution of Funds

In cases where the University exerts ownership, the distribution of monetary proceeds from applicable intellectual property shall be distributed as follows:

- Creator—25%
- University—75%

The University's share of proceeds under this policy will be used to reimburse the University for its expenses for commercial development of intellectual property. Any additional returns will be used to further the purposes of the disciplines of the entire University. Faculty, Staff, and students retain the right to all royalties resulting from the publication of their scholarly works.

Dispute and Emerging Issues Resolution

This policy constitutes an understanding which is binding on the University and on the faculty, staff, and students upon whom it is effective. Questions regarding emerging issues and disputes will be addressed by the Intellectual Property Adjudication Committee, the members of which are appointed by the President. The Intellectual Property Adjudication Committee will consist of a chair who is a staff member at the Vice Presidential level, two members of the University faculty, and two other members representing respectively the University administration. The committee will use the guidelines set forth in this policy to decide upon a fair resolution of any dispute. Disputes are resolved by submitting a grievance letter to the Intellectual Property Adjudication Committee, which shall issue a decision within 60 days.

POST OFFICE

On-campus Post Office Services are available for internal use. Resident and Commuter students are assigned individual post office box numbers. Mail will not be delivered except to the assigned student post office box. NGU UNIVERSITY STORE

The university store is owned and operated by North Greenville University. It is provided to serve students, faculty, and staff.

Book Store Hours

Monday – Thursday 8:30 AM – 5:00 PM
Fridays 8:30 AM – 12:00 noon

During home football games the book store will be closed; however, the staff will setup a merchandise table at the stadium.

Services

The university store is a self-service operation. Students are asked to leave notebooks, books, and supplies in the places provided at the entrance of the store. This habit will eliminate any embarrassing situations for students and staff.

Other Merchandise

Students will find a great many other items in addition to books at the university store. Art supplies, school supplies, clothing, toiletries, cosmetics, imprinted soft goods, glassware, and many more items are available. Computer programs may also be ordered through the university store. For refunds or exchanges on general merchandise, a cash register receipt must be presented which includes the item(s) to be returned or exchanged.

Check Acceptance

The university bookstore will accept personal checks in payment for merchandise under the following conditions:

1. It is the student's own personal check or that of the parents.
2. The check may be made out for the exact amount of purchases.
3. Presentation of a valid student identification card.
4. There will be a $25.00 service charge for each returned check.

Book Return Policy

If students drop or change a course, the texts may be returned within the two-week drop-add period at the beginning of each semester under the conditions stated below:

1. Returns must be accompanied by the REGISTER RECEIPT.
2. Books must be in absolutely new condition free of all markings with pencil, or ink, other than the price label. Books that were originally "shrink wrapped" must be returned in the same condition as they were bought.
3. The store staff is the sole judge in determining whether books returned are in new or used condition.

How Textbooks are selected

The faculty submits book requisitions to the bookstore, indicating author, title, and edition. The bookstore then proceeds to order the books, after taking into account current inventory. Prices are set by the publisher. If a new edition is published, the old edition has no cash value.

Textbook Sales

In order to avoid lines, textbooks may be ordered in advance through www.effollet.com. These orders may be picked up at the University Store. Regular textbook sales begin the first day of registration for each semester. The University Store will be open for evening classes the first night each class meets for each semester.

Out of Stock Textbook Reorder Policy

There are many reasons why a store may run out of stock. Some of these are:

1. An unusually larger enrollment than estimated.
2. The title is temporarily out-of-stock at the publisher's warehouse.

An out-of-stock book can take as long as four weeks to arrive from the publisher after the order is placed. Teachers will be notified when the book arrives at the bookstore.

Cash for Your Used Textbook

1. The bookstore will buy back used books provided they are your own books, they will be used again, and they are in good condition.
2. The bookstore will buy back used books at the end of each semester, usually during the week of exams. Lab manuals, workbooks, study guides, and other paperbacks will not be bought back.
3. The bookstore will buy back textbooks at one-half of the price paid for the book—used or new—if we are using it the next semester. If we are not using it, we will buy it back at the rate in our textbook-buying guide. Old editions have no value.
4. The books MUST HAVE OUR LABEL AND DATE IN THEM. Your student ID card may be used for identification purposes.
5. To sell your books, you do not need your sales receipt.

GYMNASIUM POLICY

The Hayes Gymnasium is for the use of North Greenville University faculty, staff, and students only.

The following are the current rules and regulations for Hayes Gymnasium:

1. No outside guests allowed without permission.
2. Each person will be required to wear their street shoes to the gym and then change to their basketball shoes.
3. Each person is responsible for his or her own equipment (balls, shoes, etc.)
4. The student attendant or athletic staff personnel have the authority to require any student to leave the gym for failure to cooperate with regulations or requests that might be made.
5. Any student or students who cause damage to the facilities will be held responsible. Any student hanging from the rim or dunking the ball and causing damage to the rim of the backboard will be held responsible. Example of damage: a student grabs hold of a net and tears it from the rim. He is assessed the charge.
6. The gym will be closed to student use during athletic practices.
7. Any violation of the above rules will result in students forfeiting the opportunity to use the gym.

CAMPUS MINISTRIES

Campus Ministries play a vital role in the university's strategy to fulfill its stated purpose. These ministries function as a key component of the collegiate experience at North Greenville University. As an institution of the South Carolina Baptist Convention, the university is committed to quality education in a biblically sound, Christ-centered environment. Ministering to the spiritual needs of students is as important as meeting their academic needs. The mission of Campus Ministries is to make disciples who make disciples by reaching students with the gospel of Christ, teaching them to obey and follow Jesus, and sending students into ministry and missions in order to make other disciples.

Through Campus Ministries, students are encouraged to realize their full potential by integrating their intellectual, physical, social, cultural, moral, and spiritual development under the Lordship of Jesus Christ. Students have the opportunity to experience a special sense of community through the development of close, personal relationships with other students. In addition, students are nurtured in their faith through relationships with caring Christian faculty, staff, and administrators. The spectrum of Campus Ministries includes worship, evangelism, discipleship, prayer, fellowship, missions, and ministry.

Ministries

Worship

In keeping with the philosophy of campus community and the importance of Christian values, the university gathers twice weekly for community worship. A variety of methods including music, drama, testimonies, media presentations, and biblical preaching are used to honor God and exalt the Savior. Chapel presentations address worship, evangelism, prayer, discipleship, fellowship, social concerns, ministry, and missions. Chapel services are designed to minister to the spiritual needs of the entire university family. Students share leadership roles in chapel. Students have other opportunities to worship through the Baptist Student Union, Athletic Ministries, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and other organizations on campus.

Evangelism

Evangelism is sharing the gospel (the person and work of Christ) with who have not received Christ. Every Christian has the privilege and responsibility for sharing Christ with those who do know him. Students are exposed to the truth and call of the gospel in chapel services, campus organizations, personal encounters, and small groups.

Discipleship

Jesus commanded his followers to make disciples (Matt 28:18-20). He instructed them to make disciples through evangelism and discipleship. One is always incomplete without the other. Believers must be faithfully and lovingly nurtured in their faith as they learn to obey all the teachings of Christ. Students have opportunities to grow in their faith through small group Bible studies, one-on-one relationships, Life Transformation Groups (groups of three people of the same sex who meet for one hour a week to discuss Scripture, pray for the lost, and hold each other accountable), fellowship clusters, and ministry engagement.

Prayer

Prayer is communication with God in order to know and share in his will. The Todd Prayer Chapel is a great facility where students gather to pray to their heavenly Father. In addition, student groups meet in residence halls, with campus organizations, and share in special prayer emphases. Prayer is always a prerequisite to spiritual awakening.

Fellowship

Christian fellowship involves authentic community where students can experience love, nurture, acceptance, and support. Campus Christian organizations provide a variety of opportunities to connect and grow through fellowship. A description of campus Christian organizations is included in this student handbook.

Missions

Students have opportunities to participate in fulfilling the Great Commission through the Office of Cross-Cultural Engagement and Global Leadership, Athletic Ministries, the Baptist Student Union, and various academic disciplines. A variety of mission opportunities are available locally, nationally, and internationally.

Ministry

Every Christ follower is a minister, called to share God's love with others by meeting their needs in Jesus' name by the power of the Holy Spirit for God's glory. These needs may be spiritual, emotional, physical, or relational. The following are mission opportunities through the university:

- Campus Ministries Interns: These students work alongside the Campus Ministries staff, recruiting student chaplains, giving leadership to ministry opportunities, and planning and evaluating all phases of Campus Ministries. The interns gain valuable "hands-on" experience that develops their ministry skills. Interns are selected through an application and interview process. Scholarships are available.
- Student Chaplains: Chaplains serve students in the residence halls and on intercollegiate athletic teams. These students have opportunities to lead Bible studies, form Life Transformation Groups, hold prayer meetings, and minister to the needs of students.
- Life Transformation Groups: LTGs consist of groups of three students of the same sex who desire to grow in Christ. These groups meet once a week for an hour for three purposes: 1) to discuss Scripture, 2) pray for those who do not know Christ, and 3) accountability. Interested students should contact the Campus Ministries Office.
- Women's Ministry: Campus Ministries seek to pursue and minister to the hearts of young women on campus. These young women have opportunities as interns and chaplains. Several young ladies lead Bible studies, prayer ministries, Life Transformation Groups, and accountability teams. Freshmen have the opportunity to connect with Big Sisters who help integrate them into university life.

- Media Ministry Team: The Media Ministry Team provides audio and visual support for the entire campus, specializing in chapel, Athletic Ministries, and the Baptist Student Union meetings. The team consists of fifteen students who cover campus events and media related tasks. The guiding verse for the team is 1 Corinthians 15:58, “So, my dear brothers and sisters, be strong and immovable. Always work enthusiastically for the Lord, for you know that nothing you do for the Lord is ever useless” (NLT).
- Athletic Ministries and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes: Every student athlete is exposed to the truth of the gospel through Athletic Ministries and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Student athletes have opportunities to grow in their faith through fellowship with other believers, team devotions, small group Bible studies, prayer support, and mission and ministry involvement. Student athletes also have opportunities to serve as athletic interns and team chaplains.
- Summer Missions: North Greenville University is recognized as a national leader in student summer missions. Through the Office of Cross-Cultural Engagement and Global Leadership and the Baptist Student Union, students have opportunities to participate in hands-on ministry experiences in North America and around the world. In addition, students have opportunities to serve on traveling ministry teams and at Christian camps. The Office of the Vice President for Church Relations also offers assistance to help students connect with mission opportunities.

Chapel Attendance Regulations

In keeping with the philosophy of campus community and the importance of Christian values, chapel meets twice weekly. The student must enroll and successfully complete the requirements for chapel each semester of full-time enrollment at North Greenville University in order to graduate (up to eight semesters). Part-time students must earn two semesters of chapel credit in order to graduate. Attendance at chapel is an essential aspect of the university experience. Therefore, students may not engage in any conduct or behavior that is in any way distracting. Violators will be identified by staff and required to leave chapel with loss of credit. Disciplinary measures may also be taken. Chapel begins at 10:00 am on Mondays and Wednesdays. Students arriving after doors close will not receive credit. Proper dress is required.

Cultural Event Regulations

The Fine Arts Committee schedules cultural events each semester. Full-time students are required to enroll for the cultural events course each semester and must complete the requirement for each semester at North Greenville University in order to graduate.

Attendance at cultural events is an essential aspect of the university experience. Therefore, students may not engage in any conduct or behavior that is in any way distracting. While in cultural events phones should remain in your pocket or purse and must be turned off or set to silent or buzz mode. Students may not use phones for calls, text messaging, games or other uses during cultural events. Violators will be required to leave the event with loss of credit. Disciplinary measures may also be taken. “Special Event” dress is required. See Dress Regulation Section.

STUDENT CLUBS/ORGANIZATIONS AND STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Because self-government promotes the development of character and responsible citizenship, the Student Government Association, consisting of all students at North Greenville University, is established to interact with and advise the office of Student Life regarding the activities of student life. The officers of the Student Government Association are elected each spring by the student body. The work of the student government is accomplished through three separate branches: the executive, the student senate, and the supreme court.

The Student Government Association exists to maintain the high ideals for which the university is justly respected and to foster recognition of privileges and responsibilities of students.

Resident students provide for their own internal government through various councils and committees. The students in the residence halls elect these councils or committees, and their function is to plan and coordinate educational and social programs. They also make recommendations concerning residence hall rules and regulations.

Policies for Clubs and Organizations

In order to coordinate the plans of all campus clubs and organization, the following policies have been adopted:

1. All activities must be approved by the Student Life Office. A form for obtaining this approval may be secured at the Student Life Office and must be signed by the president and advisor of the sponsoring organization or club. This approval is necessary before an organization may:

2. All fund raising projects (on or off campus) must be approved by the Office of Student Life. Organization Travel Policy

NGU Publication Policy

Acting under the guidelines governing student publications at independent universities, the university has determined that the student press will serve primarily an academic function as part of the Humanities Division and the Mass Communication department.

Providing an outlet for student expression, the university has chosen to retain the student press within this structure of the institution and has determined the extent to which it can balance the mission of the university with student demands for freedom of expression.

Committed to the concept of a student press, the university has accepted the responsibility for providing organizational assistance and financial funding for the three student publications within the Humanities Division and the Mass Communication department. Any additional funding needed may be gathered by the staffs through donations of sponsors. Any fund raising events (on or off campus) must be approved in advance by the Office of Student Life. In addition, the university will offer scholarships for the editors of The Skyliner, The Aurora, and The Mountain Laurel. The university may condition this support, however, upon the student publication agreeing to comply with applicable policies and regulations governing the use of facilities and equipment. The publication is required to submit all contracts for expenditure or receipt of funds to the institution for prior approval. Assuming the responsibility for educating all students who are editors, managers, and/or staff members of the student publications, the university will provide opportunities for students to receive an education in responsible journalism that can take a variety of forms, but may include supporting the attendance of editors and staff at seminars and/or in classes and staff meetings where students are instructed in the requirements governing professional responsibility, journalistic ethics, liability for communication torts, and constitutional rights. Instruction in these courses also include an introduction to the guidelines for determining libel and obscenity and the strategies used to protect against them. Accepting the responsibility as the publisher of the student press, the university has the inherent authority to insist upon prior review of all content and to require the use of explicit disclaimers that state in all student publications that the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the university or student body.

Accepting the responsibility for regulating and disciplining student editors, managers, photographers, and/or writers, the university expects students to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism, such as the avoidance of libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, attacks on personal integrity, and the techniques of harassment and innuendo. Students found in violation of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action by the Publications Regulatory and Supervisory Board (composed of the Humanities Division Chair, the Mass Communication Department Head, and the faculty advisers of the newspaper, yearbook, and literary magazine), and the Director of Student Life acting as the authority of the university. In the event a student is charged with any violation of the foregoing conduct regulations, which involves the question of responsibility leading to withdrawal, suspension, or expulsion, the student's case shall be handled in keeping with the disciplinary procedures of the university as stated elsewhere in The Enlightener and the North Greenville University Catalog.

Student Publications

Skyliner

The Skyliner is the newspaper written and edited by a staff of students and published by the university. Matters of campus-wide interest are reported. The majority of the staff is composed of students who have been or are presently enrolled in Journalism 3250–Newspaper Practicum, a course in the basics of writing for a newspaper with emphasis on news and feature articles, proofreading, and newspaper layout. The prerequisite for this course is Journalism 2320–News Writing, which is a study of the theory and practice of writing basic news stories for the print media, including practical work in covering a variety of news events and preparing copy for publication. Mass Communication majors are required to enroll in this practicum. However, by also enrolling in these two courses, any other interested students may then apply to become staff members. Exceptions in these requirements for staff membership can be granted by the faculty adviser. For example, interested students who have not enrolled in these courses but can demonstrate that they have substantial knowledge and prior experience in print journalism may apply in writing to become members of The Skyliner staff. Special permission to join the staff can only be granted by the faculty adviser.

Aurora

The Aurora is the university yearbook edited by the students and published annually by the university. The majority of the staff is composed of students who have been or are presently enrolled in Journalism 3260–Yearbook Practicum. The prerequisite for this course is Journalism 2320. Mass Communication majors are required to enroll in these courses; however, any other student interested in becoming a member of the yearbook staff may also enroll in these courses. As is the case of the newspaper staff, other interested students who have not enrolled in these courses but can demonstrate they have substantial knowledge and prior experience in print journalism and/or graphics design may apply for staff membership. Special permission to join the yearbook staff can only be granted by the faculty adviser.

Mountain Laurel

The Mountain Laurel is the literary magazine published by the university. It contains the written, artistic, and photographic work submitted by any interested students, faculty, staff, or other invited contributors. From each year's submissions, the staff members, working with the faculty adviser, evaluate and select the pieces to be published from among all the works submitted. The staff then edits and arranges these works for the annual edition of the literary magazine. Works not selected for one year's edition may be resubmitted. Any students interested in serving as staff members for this publication must apply in writing to the faculty adviser who will then select the staff. Students are not required to enroll in a practicum to work on this publication; however, preference will be given to those students who are or have been enrolled in English 3310–Creative Writing and/or Journalism 3310–Graphics Design or who can produce evidence of prior experience working on literary magazines.

NGU SAFETY PLAN

Emergencies can occur at any time and without warning. The safety and security of every individual on The North Greenville University campuses is always the primary concern of Campus Security, Student Life and the University. It is unlikely, and we continually pray that we do not experience a disaster at North Greenville University; however, we must be prepared.

Campus Wide Alarm Sound Identification

North Greenville has several different warning systems in place to instruct students, faculty and staff to different problems on campus. One system is the warning siren located on the Campus Security office. There are two different patterns for the siren. First is a continuous sound and second is an alternating sound. When:

1. The alarm is a continuous siren sound: take cover inside the building(s)
2. The alarm is an alternating siren sound: evacuate the building(s)

General Instructions for All People

1. Be as calm as you can.
2. Be aware of what the problem is; what has caused the "Safety Plan" to be initiated so that you will know how to respond.
3. Be informed and prepared before an emergency or disaster occurs.
4. Follow the instructions of the person(s) in charge.
5. When calling Campus Security or 911:
 - a. Speak calmly and clearly so that you are understood
 - b. Give your name, telephone number and location
 - c. The exact location of the emergency or problem
 - d. The nature and scope of the emergency or problem; (i.e. What is the problem? Are there any injuries? How many injuries?)
 - e. Do not hang up the phone until told to do so by the person you are talking to.

Note: If you receive a busy signal and are not able to talk with someone in Campus Security, keep trying until you are able to talk to someone in Campus Security.

6. When exiting or evacuating a building or area, be careful of other people, not to push them down, step on them or push other people onto fallen or disabled people.

Faculty, Resident Assistant, and Supervisors Safety Plan Responsibilities

If the alert is to evacuate the building

1. Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should select one or two persons to lead others safely out of the building.
2. Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors are responsible for assigning two individuals per disabled person(s) during evacuation.
3. Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should check any adjoining areas, such as restrooms or supposedly vacant rooms, to be sure that all persons are notified to evacuate.

4. Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should be the last individual(s) to leave the building.
5. When everyone has safely evacuated the building, Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors will systematically sweep and check to see that everyone is accounted for. If there are two people searching the building, coordinate the search efforts. If someone is unaccounted for, Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors should immediately alert Campus Security on the scene. All students and personnel must operate on the buddy system to make sure all facilities are evacuated.
6. Do not go into any building after it has been evacuated until the “all clear” has been given by fire department or Campus Security.
7. Safety drills are planned each semester by Student Life. Both announced and unannounced drills will occur.
8. Failure to evacuate the residence hall during a drill will result in disciplinary action by Student Life.

If the alert is to stay in the building

1. Faculty, Resident Assistants and Supervisors are to make sure that all people are moved to the safest part of the building as noted in the tornado section of this plan.
2. Faculty, Resident Assistants, and Supervisors are responsible for assigning two (2) individuals per disabled person during relocation to a safer part of the building. Note: A list of the safest part of each building is found under the tornado section of this Security Plan.
3. If the building is to be locked down, faculty, Residents Assistants and Supervisors are to make sure all doors are locked and people are on the floor and away from windows. Lights should be turned off.
4. Do not move out of the building unless instructed to do so by local law enforcement or Campus Security.

Evacuation Meeting Points (EMP) on Campus

The following places are central meeting places if a building evacuation is ordered. If a building evacuation is ordered, go immediately to the central meeting place closest to the evacuated building. Do not go anywhere other than the Evacuation Meeting Point. Go immediately! Then, identify yourself to the person in charge of the building (faculty, Resident Assistant or supervisor) to insure that everyone has safely evacuated the building and no one is missing.

After evacuating, stay with your co-workers/classmates so that Resident Assistants, Supervisors, and Faculty can determine if the building has been safely and completely evacuated
6. Notify Campus Security on the scene if you suspect someone may still be in the building.
7. Do not re-enter a building unless the "all clear" has been issued by the fire department or Campus Security.

Write down the features such as height, weight, sex, race, clothing, age and name of the person(s) you observed. Then immediately communicate this information to Campus Security. Notify Campus Security with this information when you are talking to them. Also inform Campus Security of any injuries.
4. Campus Security is to secure buildings and grounds and alert proper civil officials immediately.

Medical Emergencies

1. Do not move a seriously injured person unless it is a life-threatening situation.
2. If you feel you must have immediate help, and it is severe enough that you need EMS dial 9-911 from a campus telephone or 911 from any other telephone. Also, notify Campus Security by dialing 7777 from a campus telephone or 977-7777 from any other telephone.

Move away from the area, move other people away and contact Campus Security. Do not use any cell phone or two-way radio devices.

The bomb threat procedures are as follows:

Hazardous Gas Leaks

If a gas cylinder or storage tank is suspected of leaking or there is a suspicious odor, do not attempt to discover where the leak or odor is. Evacuation

Some emergencies require the evacuation of building(s). If a building is to be evacuated, all personnel should assemble at the field in front of the Student Center, 200 feet from the buildings. Never use an elevator to evacuate. Once a building has been evacuated, no person will be permitted to re-enter the building unless authorized personnel give approval. If campus-wide evacuation is necessary, Campus Security will notify the student, faculty, and staff via Blackboard Connect.

Blackboard Connect

Beginning for the Fall 2014 semester North Greenville University in cooperation with Blackboard. Implemented the Blackboard Connect System. This system will allow campus security or Student Life to send an emergency message to all cell-phones, computer screens, and wireless enabled PDA's listed in the system. In addition, persons receiving the message will be able to respond with a code that will allow campus security to know their location on campus in the event of a campus wide emergency alert.

Three alert levels will be used to communicate with the NGU community:

Level One- Operational Alert

This level will be used to communicate weather related or general information which would call for a change in the normal operation of the campus. Included would be information about the cancellation of classes due to inclement weather, power outages, a change in traffic flow, etc.

The message will begin with OA. All information following would be instructions concerning a change in the normal pattern of NGU procedures.

Level Two- Situational Alert

The SA message would be sent in response to an active, credible threat of harm made against the campus via phone, e-mail, mail, or made personally to a student, staff, administrative, or faculty member. The following procedures will be in effect if a Situational Alert is initiated:

1. The threat will be reported to Law Enforcement. Law Enforcement Officials will be advised of our alert status.
2. All doors to classrooms should be closed and locked (if possible) while class is in session.
3. Visitors to the campus will be required to check in with Campus Security.
4. All vehicles locked.
5. Campus Security will establish a checkpoint at the main entrance of the campus to check all incoming traffic.
6. No off campus visitors for students.
7. Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to be on alert and report any suspicious activity to campus security.
8. RA's and Coordinators on alert monitoring activity in student housing.
9. All Campus Security Officers on duty and patrolling the campus.
10. No loitering on campus. Everyone should move quickly across campus to his or her destination.

Level Three-Emergency Alert

An Emergency Alert will be issued in the event a clear and present danger exists on campus. An example would be an armed assailant on campus or a known fugitive in the area. An Emergency Alert message will be accompanied by a long, continuous blast of the campus emergency siren. The following procedures will be in effect if an Emergency Alert is initiated:

1. Stay where you are until the All-Clear (AC) message is sent. The all-clear signal will be accompanied by three short tones by the campus siren. Do not open the door to your office, classroom, or dorm unless directed to do so by Law Enforcement or Campus Security or until the all-clear message is sent and sounded.
2. If possible, lock the door to your office, classroom, or dorm.
3. Stay away from doors and windows.
4. Respond to EA message with your location using abbreviations for campus housing and campus buildings.
5. If the threat is in your immediate area, respond to the EA message with the 911 code following the letters for the building where the threat is located.
6. Take a deep breath, pray, and remain calm. Do not confront an assailant. If the assailant is nearby and you are in an open area where flight is a possibility, clear the area as quickly as possible or seek immediate cover. If you are in a confined area, look for cover or drop to the ground and play dead.
